Mr. Dodge says that the statement is entirely false and that continued ill health and pressure of other duties with a prior claim made it obligatory. In speaking of the bond plan the latter says:

"The carefully prepared plan of the finance committee was unanimously approved by the votes of all the members of the board present, of which I was one, and it was afterwards ratified by nearly all of the stockholders."

FRIAR REMOVAL GOES OVER FOR FUTURE DEBATE

The Principal Feature of Vatican Note Is Unsettled.

AMERICAN REPLY IN HANDS OF POPE

Minor Questions in Negotiations to Be Taken Up in Manila.

VALUE OF LANDS IS TO BE COMPUTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 16.—At noon today Maj. Porter of the judge advocate's department of the army at Washington personally delivered to Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, the last note of Judge Taft, governor of the Philippine islands, on the subject of the withdrawal of the friars from the islands, which will presumably end the governor's negotiations here, as Maj. Porter simultaneously presented a letter from Judge Taft asking for a farewell audience of the pope.

The following is, in part, Judge Taft's note to the vatican. It is addreseed to Cardinal Rampolla, and begins thus:

"In reply to the two notes of your eminence, of June 21 and July 9, I have just received a communication from the secretary of war, in precise and exhaustive terms, which are here reproduced integrally. Secretary Root says he is glad to see by the two notes received from the vatican that the holy see is animated by the best intentions to come to an understanding with Washington about the relations between church and state in the Philippines, that your eminence has declared the vatican to be disposed to give clear and precise instructions to the friars to occupy themselves with religion only, abstaining entirely from politics, and that the holy see proposes to introduce, little by little, ecclesiastics of other nationalities, especially American.

Question Still Unsolved.

Secretary Root adds that he can do less than acknowledge the wisdom of these propositions, but that he must observe that they would not solve the question.

The United States has no desire to violate the treaty of Paris, and seeks not a forcible but a voluntary withdrawal of certain persons, who happen to be Spaniards, and whose previous experiences in the islands had thrown them into antagonistic relations with the people and with the Catholic laity and native clergy, many of whom have left their parishes and can only be reinstated by using material force, which the United States cannot permit. This proves that the government of the Philippines has no intention to propose measures contrary to the interests of the vatican and, in fact, its interest in the church.

"If the question of withdrawal be left unsolved, now that the Washington government has persuaded the ecclesiastical authorities to see the necessity of carrying out this step, the later withdrawal of the friars under order of the religious superior could not be regarded as anything but voluntary and would not violate the treaty of Paris; nor could such order be regarded as affirming or admitting any accusations against the friars, because the American government made no such accusations against the friars.

In the Interest of the People.

"The United States did not desire the withdrawal for itself—it was indifferent to the presence of the friars—but in the interest of the whole people of the Philippines who were bitterly opposed to their presence."

"It was thought by the generous proposal of a contract, which would bind the Philippine government to certain financial and other obligations, to secure the much-longed-for desire of the Philippine people in the withdrawal of the friars. Now that the vatican does not see its way clear to make a definite withdrawal, the American government has deemed it wiser to recur to the methods of settlement of the various questions at issue suggested by Cardinal Rampolla's first communication of June 21, namely:

"First—An investigation by both sides into the possible and probable liabilities and claims and the settlement of them by an accredited apostolic delegate with the governor in Manila, after the conditions with respect to the titles of the friars to the land, and the amount of claims for rental have been presented by the representative of the church to the representatives of the Philippine government in Manila.

Taft Mission Not a Failure.

"As to the indemnity for the friars' lands, your eminence has pointed out the difficulty of computing the exact value, but this might be done by examining the title deeds. The Washington government will immediately order the general commanding the forces in the Philippines to furnish all indications necessary to ascertain what damage has been done by the military occupation. Although regretful that all the questions have not been decided definitely, the government is glad to express satisfaction at the results obtained."

Secretary Root, in his communication declares that Judge Taft's journey is quite compensated for by the fact that it is possible to fix general lines on which, later, can be amicably resolved all the questions now pending. Meanwhile, as a preliminary, he wishes Cardinal Rampolla to send to the Philippine government four lists of the property considered to belong to the religious orders, comprising:

"One—That transferred to no corporations.

"Two—The ecclesiastical buildings occupied by the troops, with indications of the damage and compensation therefor.

Condition of Transfer.

"Three—The property before considered Spanish crown lands, which it is desired the American government should transfer to the church, though Washington will grant such transfers only on condition that a satisfactory agreement be reached on all other questions.

"Four—The charitable and educational

PRINCE CHEN AND HIS SUITE.
Chinese Ambassador to the Coronation. His Secretary, Liang, Shown at the Left in the Rear is the New Minister to the United States.

UNITED STATES STANDS HIGH WITH CHINA'S EMPEROR

America Will Share in Empire's Industrial Development.

LIANG IS PLEASED WITH APPOINTMENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, July 16.—Liang Chen Tung, the newly appointed Chinese minister at Washington, who is in Paris with Prince Chen's mission to King Edward's coronation, of which he was secretary, is delighted with his appointment. He said in an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"I return to Washington with the greatest pleasure. I had so many friends there and college mates who are now prominent men, and had a friendship of several years standing with Secretary Hay, whom I warmly liked."

As to the United States relations with China, Liang Chen Tung said:

"You can assert emphatically that not only the Chinese government but the people of China are most grateful for the United States' fair dealing and for the friendly disposition shown throughout the recent difficulties, and her late act in the Tien-tsin question has still further increased China's gratitude. The United States will certainly receive as good treatment as any power in the commercial and industrial development of the Chinese empire.

American Methods Appreciated.

"As an illustration of the imperial feeling toward the United States, you can say that when I returned to Peking with the recent Chinese mission to Germany the emperor and dowager empress expressed to me their gratitude for the good behavior of the American troops at Peking and their appreciation of America's attitude generally.

"This mission returns to Peking by way of the United States, sailing July 23 on board the Philadelphia, which we selected because she is an American vessel. I shall accompany the mission to Peking, returning to Washington at the end of December or the beginning of 1903. I am going first to my home in Canton in order to take my two boys to the United States with me, as I desire them to receive an American education, which has been such a great benefit to myself."

Prince Chen, head of the coronation mission, entered the room during the foregoing conversation and said in Chinese, which Liang Chen Tung interpreted:

"I wish to say that I have great admiration for newspaper men and for the United States."

Chosen for Special Fitness.

A high member of the mission, referring to the adverse criticisms of the recent appointments of Chinese diplomats, informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that this was not applicable to Liang Chen Tung, who was specially chosen on account of his American education and experience. He had held the important post of secretary to three of the last foreign missions and had just received a high decoration, the blue button. He already held the brevet red button, which is a higher distinction at court, but the blue button carries with it higher privileges when the bearer leaves Peking. The holder of a blue button when visiting the provinces is accorded the honors and distinctions of a viceroy or governor.

Liang Chen Tung has received a number of congratulatory letters and cablegrams, one of the latter being from John W. Foster, the former United States secretary of state, who at the invitation of the emperor of China participated in the peace negotiations with Japan.

HOBSON TO THE RESCUE.

Hero of the Merrimac Saves Life of Young Woman.

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Merrimac fame, rescued Miss May Cerf, a young lady well known in St. Louis society, from drowning in the Mississippi river today, opposite the Chautauqua grounds near Alton, Ill.

Miss Cerf was standing on the deck of a yacht, and, losing her balance, fell into the stream. Capt. Hobson, who was swimming nearby, went to the young lady's rescue and caught her as she was going down for the second time. He conveyed her to the yacht, where she was resuscitated with some difficulty.

CHICAGO BROKERS NOT CERTAIN THAT CORNER IS DEAD

PITTSBURGHER IN DEAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 16.—Everything was uncertainty in the corn market today. In spite of the announcement yesterday by the Gates-New York clique that as far as it was concerned support of the July product was at an end, the rank and file of the trade looked askance at the market and expressed the opinion that after all the "July deal" might not be off.

Interest centered around the group of steel magnates that worked the corner and gossip differed materially as to whether the crowd would have profits to divide or losses to stand. The Daily News learned from trustworthy sources today that $150,000,000 was behind the deal, which was engineered by Samuel O. Scotten, of the Harris-Gates firm. The principal backer, according to the News, was Daniel Reis, the tin plate magnate, who put up half the cash for the corner. The other reported members of the clique were James H. Moore, William H. Moore, John Lambert, John W. Gates, John Dupee, Isaac Ellwood, J. F. Harris, Charles Gates and Henry C. Frick. From the same source comes the information that most of the immense line of corn, estimated anywhere between 15,000,000 and 25,000,000 bushels, was taken on at 62 cents or under. Yesterday's prominent elevator interests settled with Harris, Gates & Co. at 80 and 82 cents, but how much of the big short line was covered is not known.

Conservative speculators and commission men pointed to the action of the corn pit today as indicative that the corner was not broken. They said that plenty of July corn was on tap, but that the bull clique was buying sparingly and supporting the market. Otherwise July, instead of hanging firmly near yesterday's closing price, would have slumped to a discount under September options.

THIRTY-FIVE ARE KILLED IN A UTAH MINE

Lighted Candle Carried to Magazine by Miner Causes Explosion.

BRAVE RESCUERS ALSO MEET DEATH

Concussion Killed a Horse in Slope Opening Two Miles Away.

ONE BODY AT LEAST STILL UNRECOVERED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Park City, Utah, July 16.—Thirty-five miners were killed in the Daly-West and Ontario mines today, 29 in the Daly-West and six in the Ontario.

The disaster was the result of an explosion occasioned by John Burgy, a miner, going into one of the magazines of the Daly-West with a lighted candle. His act cost him his life. His body was blown to small pieces.

The explosion occurred at 11:20 o'clock last night, and in a moment deadly gas was being generated throughout the mines. It crept through every tunnel, shaft and incline, and in a very short space of time scores of miners found themselves face to face with death.

It is not known how much powder was exploded, but whatever amount there was, it went off with a terrible concussion. The shock was something terrific and was heard for a long distance, although it was nearly 2 o'clock before the disaster was known in Park City, a distance of three miles.

When it is stated that a horse was killed at the mouth of the Ontario tunnel, two miles away, some idea of the force of the explosion may be had. That the loss of life was not far greater seems marvelous.

The work of rescuing the imperiled and dead was quickly and heroically undertaken. Men were brought to the surface as fast as the disabled machinery would permit. The victims had to be brought up the shaft in a one-compartment cage, the other compartment having been wrecked by the explosion.

In the Ontario, which is connected with the Daly-West, six men are dead. Two of the dead are rescuers, John McLaughlin and John Eckstrom. The body of the latter is still in the mine.

SENATOR'S WIFE DEAD.

Mrs. Thomas M. Patterson, Formerly of Wellsburg, W. Va., Passes Away in Colorado.

DENVER, July 16.—Mrs. Katherine G. Patterson, wife of United States Senator Thomas M. Patterson, died tonight at her home in this city from nervous prostration. Her maiden name was Katherine Grafton. She was born in Wellsburgh, W. Va., January 1, 1839. She was a graduate of Berlin college. She married Thomas M. Patterson at Crawfordsville, Ind., in 1865, and came to Colorado in 1872.

She was a grand niece of Alexander Campbell, founder of the Christian church, and was herself of that faith. She had long been a leader in club and charitable circles in this city.

BITUMINOUS MEN WORKING AGAINST GENERAL STRIKE

President Mitchell in Control and All Delegates Will Be With Him.

FAVOR BIG DEFENSE FUND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—The privately expressed opinion of mine workers' officials tonight is that a general strike will not be ordered in support of the anthracite men, but that a big defense fund will be established. One reliable authority said that an assessment of not less than 10 per cent of the weekly wage of bituminous men would be made to carry on the anthracite strike, and that it is possible that the assessment may be even larger.

The sentiment against a general strike has crystallized since the arrival of delegates until the proposition is practically without support, except among the anthracite miners, who are not unanimous by any means. President Mitchell is more the man of the hour than ever tonight, and it is generally conceded that what he says will go in the convention.

The anthracite delegates will have a conference in the morning before the convention opens. It is understood that they will vote as a unit on the final issue. Delegates of other states held caucuses tonight. There is a possibility of the convention not getting to business before Friday, as the anthracite and several other districts are claiming more delegates than they are entitled to. The Pittsburgh delegation will not arrive till morning.

President Patrick Dolan and Secretary William Dodds headed the Pittsburgh delegation leaving here last night. William Little, member of the general executive board of the miners, and several members of the Pittsburgh district board are among the delegates.

WILL TAKE DAYS TO GAIN CONTROL OF BIG OIL FIRE

Experts Will Try to Smother It Out With Steam.

FLAMES LEAPING HIGH IN THE AIR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beaumont, Tex., July 16.—Beaumont is in a fever of excitement over the disastrous fire at Jennings, La., and all the expedience of experts and practical oil men in the Beaumont field is being brought together to devise some scheme to cope with the situation. This morning at 3 o'clock a special train carried the Beaumont fire department and a chemical engine to Jennings, but the fire had gained such headway and the heat was so intense the engine was useless. Nearly every prominent oil man in the Beaumont field took passage on the special.

Jack Ennis of Beaumont, who for 30 years performed like services for the Standard Oil Company, has practically taken charge of the well and expects to extinguish the flames with steam. This will be done by connecting a battery of 20 or 25 boilers with a pipe line forming a complete circle within about 100 feet of the well. Joints will be made in all directions, and laterals leading 100 feet from the main line. When everything is ready and the boilers have been steamed up to their highest tension, these laterals will be thrown over the well and a stream of steam shot directly over the fire from all directions.

Ennis says it will be Sunday or Monday before this rigging can be completed, and fears are entertained that the gate valve will not hold out that long. Should it give way and the well gush half the amount it has in the past, it would cover several acres with fire and 100 boilers could not extinguish it.

Mr. Ennis says the flames are leading 100 feet in the air and making a magnificent spectacle, and the dense column of smoke can be seen for a mile or more. The Jennings field is situated in a rolling country and even should the gate valve of Jennings No. 2 give way, it is possible to save the other wells. The surrounding wells are protected with earthen embankments. This will probably be reinforced by a number of ditches leading to the low lands to carry off the sea of fire should the gate valve give way.

CRACKS IN FIFTH AVENUE.

Street Sinks Near the Excavation for a Skyscraper in the Downtown District.

A portion of Fifth avenue in the crowded downtown district has dropped about four inches within a few days. The sinking occurred near the corner of Wood street immediately in front of the excavation in which the foundations for the new Farmers Deposit National bank building are in course of construction. The George A. Fuller Company, which has the contract for the new skyscraper, has taken steps to prevent a further depression by shoring up the fallen portion. The excavation for the big building extends out to the edge of the curb.

Until yesterday no effort was made to prevent the slipping of the earth under the street pavement proper, but the foreman was called out of the hole yesterday afternoon and shown how the asphalt pavement was cracking and sinking away from the street car tracks. An investigation showed that water from a sewer drop a few feet below had undermined a portion of the bank and it crumbled under the weight on it. Several barrels of cement were plastered over the sunken portion and the crumbling ground was held in place by a retaining wall of timbers. This shoring will be made permanent before the foundations are completed by a solid masonry wall and crossgirders from the main steel structural work will be tied into it to prevent any further damage to the thoroughfare.

Trapeze Performer Killed.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 16.—(Special.)—The remains of Thomas E. Grant of Ellwood City arrived home this afternoon from Lebanon, Pa., where he met death yesterday while performing on the aerial trapeze in a circus.

GUARDSMEN BURN BLANK CARTRIDGES

Soldiers Give Mimic Warfare on Field of Gettysburg.

TROOPS PROMPT AT INSPECTION

REGULARS ENGAGE IN EXHIBITION DRILL

By ROBERT WRAY,
Staff Correspondent.

Gettysburg, July 16.—Mimic warfare was enacted today on the plains of Gettysburg by soldiers of the Pennsylvania National guard, who charged up and down, burning blank cartridges in their annual inspection drills.

Long before the morning gun had awakened the echoes company streets were a scene of life. Rifles were being cleaned, buttons brightened and leathers polished. Out on the broad drill grounds mounted orderlies were scurrying to and fro. The morning meal had hardly ended before the troops were forming in their company streets. The bands were on the color lines and lively airs were played until the march was taken up. From the right of the camp the Sixteenth infantry swung in column of fours and took up position for inspection. The regiment had been preceded by the inspecting officers, who were grouped on the field awaiting the arrival of the command. Glancing at them with a smile on his face Col. Hulings pulled out his watch and, turning to his staff, remarked: "Gentlemen, we are ahead of time." The orders called for the inspection to start at 7 o'clock, but the Sixteenth was on the field long before the hour. No time was lost and after the regiment had passed in review the inspection was taken up. It was conducted by the inspector-general, who was assisted by the three brigade inspectors. Two hours were spent in the inspection and not a single soldier of the regiment left the ranks. While the sun was very warm there was a lively breeze blowing and no cases of heat prostration were reported.

Governor Visits Camp.

After the routine of the inspection had been covered blank cartridges were issued to the command and for almost another hour they were burned in working out a problem of attack. There was no delay when the regiment left the field. It had hardly passed into camp before the Eighteenth infantry was forming for review.

Gov. Stone drove early to the parade grounds and was one of the most interested spectators of the ceremony. "A belt full of cartridges is all they need," he remarked to a bystander, "to make them ready for the field."

In the early morning, accompanied by Gen. Miller, the governor rode through the entire camp. When they entered the camp of the regulars they were discovered by the sentry and the guard presented. Their visit took the regulars by surprise, as their coming was unheralded. A sharp cry of "Turn out the guard!" greeted them when they turned an angle of the road and found the sabers glistening in the morning sun. It was handsomely done, and the governor returned to his quarters highly pleased with his reception by the troops.

One of the many interesting features of the day was the drill of the regular cavalry squadron. It was held in the cavalry camp almost three miles from division headquarters and was witnessed by many of the officers of the guard. For several days past the First City troop of Philadelphia has been drilling with the regular cavalry and today the commandant of the regulars gave the militia captain a problem to work out. The formation was in squadron and a charge in direction was ordered. Both of the regular troops were slow in carrying out the order, and while their officers were explaining the reasons, the City troop came galloping through a cloud of dust, completing the movement while the regulars were wondering what it all meant.

Regulars Gave Drill.

In the afternoon the squadron of regulars gave a highly interesting drill, which was witnessed by nearly all the officers of the division. The troopers, with horses packed, moved at a trot to their drill grounds and gave an exhibition of camp building. Lariats were thrown on the horses and the animals picketed. In the meantime the troopers were unloading their animals and pup tents were being pitched. In 20 minutes after the arrival of the cavalrymen preparations for the mess were being made and 10 minutes later horses were packed and the troopers on their way to their camp. While the City troop might beat them in routine drills, they surprised the Philadelphia soldiers when it came to camp building.

Arrangements for the state shoot at Mt. Gretna will be completed tomorrow. The rifle teams of the division have been furnished with the regulation arm of the United States service and will have a week's practice with the new rifle before the contest opens. The contest for the state trophies will open about August 18, and the brigade whose team makes the best average scores will be selected to furnish the men to shoot in the international rifle contest at Sea Girt. There has been much rivalry for positions on the regimental teams, and since the season opened in the spring men have been daily practicing for place. Each regiment will furnish five men, one of whom will act as a reserve.

It has been decided that the division shall march in review before the governor tomorrow afternoon. Orders were issued tonight announcing that "Governor's Day" will be held irrespective of inspection and drills.

The homeward movement of the troops has undergone another change and the leaving hours cannot be stated positively until tomorrow. Light Battery B, left tonight received orders for its inspection in the morning. After the inspection the battery will break camp and will move homeward. At the same time the regular battery and cavalry squadron will leave camp for Ft. Myer.

its officers will be entertained by the officers of Battery B. A dinner will be given them tomorrow evening, and the enlisted men will be entertained by the Pittsburgh artillerymen.

Mrs. Stone sent out invitations today to the wives and daughters of the officers now in camp to meet Mrs. Corbin at the governor's headquarters on Friday afternoon.

Among the visitors here are Congressman W. H. Graham of Allegheny; Attorney General Elkin, State Treasurer Harris, Senator Cummings of Warren county and Senator Mitchell of Jefferson county.

It is rumored in Gettysburg that the Third brigade will be held as a reserve when camp breaks for a quick movement to the anthracite coal country. The story cannot be verified and it is probably untrue, as the cars have been ordered to take the regiments of this brigade to their home stations on Friday and Saturday.

GEORGE SHIRAS III. MET CITIZENS WORKERS

Work of the Campaign Is Being Mapped Out—Court House Candidates Have Troubles.

Four members of the general committee of 32 of the Citizens party held the first of a series of weekly meetings at stalwart headquarters yesterday afternoon. The four members were all from the Seventh legislative district.

George Shiras III., candidate for congress on the Citizens ticket from the Twenty-ninth district and James R. MacFarlane, candidate for judge of common pleas court No. 1, met with the members. Reports were heard from every quarter of the district and all were encouraging. The workers and members of the general committee from every district in the county are to hold weekly conferences.

Democratic County Chairman Alcorn yesterday named this campaign committee: Samuel J. Graham, chairman; William J. Brennen, John F. O'Toole, Casper E. Mayer and J. E. Abbott of Homestead.

The political situation in this county seems to have impressed the regular political loafer, grafter or macer, whatever term fits, with the idea that he ought to make an early start and therein is much tribulation for the candidates.

County candidates in the court house, who are accessible, have given strict orders to their clerks to bar all objectionable characters on pain of having to settle when the chief fails to reach a compromise with his visitor without recourse to his pocket.

GOOD PIANOS.

It is especially advantageous to purchase pianos now and reap the benefit of the midsummer prices prevailing at Hamilton's. You always get a bargain here, and the more you prefer a highgrade instrument the more likely you are to be gratified with your purchase.

If you are particularly fastidious and insist upon having the best of everything you'll never be satisfied till you own an A. B. Chase piano, for it is admitted to be the most artistic piano ever constructed. Artistic musicians who are free from prejudice never fail to accord the highest praise to the A. B. Chase. The refined quality of this instrument's tone is the delight of the most exacting music lovers.

If you are a stickler for really brilliant music there is one piano above all others that is noted for brilliancy. This is the celebrated J. & C. Fischer. So great has become the Fischer that at the present time over 118,000 Fischers are in use. And the number is constantly increasing.

The very best piano in the world, selling at moderate price, is the exquisite Schumann. It was never made for indifferent persons, but for those who can appreciate the delicacy of tonal quality essential to refined playing. The Schumann is a much better piano than many selling for several hundred dollars more. You can prove this to your satisfaction any time you make comparisons.

The Smith & Barnes and Hamilton pianos are also worthy of those who wish to purchase really good pianos at moderate prices. All the instruments in this great stock are fully guaranteed. Prices range from $200 up for the better grades, with correspondingly less prices for the instruments that are not so artistic. Come in if possible, or send for catalogues, which are free to all who write for them.

THOUSANDS WENT TO CALHOUN TO HELP ORPHANS

Annual Picnic for Benefit of St. Paul's Bigger Than Ever.

POLITICIANS OUT IN FORCE

Men of Local Renown Helped to Roll the Dollars In—Attendance Said to Be 15,000 and Another Monster Crowd Is Expected Today.

"Och, bliss yer kind face, darlin', but 'tis a foine day and a glorious sun that shoines—and why in the name of all that's good should it be otherwise, wid the jolkes of such fxcillint gentry as 'Andy' Fulton, 'Jimmie' Burke, 'Boley' Mullen and thim other men of renown here," said a sprig of the "ould sod" to City Controller John B. Larkin yesterday, as that distinguished official of Citizens party fame sat behind a square box made especially for his proportions and counted the dollars that rolled in by the hundreds for the little waifs of St. Paul's Orphan asylum.

The "sprig" was right. There has rarely been a more glorious day for the orphans' annual benefit than that which thousands of every race and creed who went to Calhoun park yesterday took advantage of.

At 6 o'clock last night 12,000 people had passed through the gates. Controller Larkin said so, Father Lynch affirmed it, and genial "Tom" Dunn looked through the narrows of his eye and added, "Well, it's gospel truth!"

Everybody Was There.

"Who's there?" asked a young woman as she tripped up the stairs.

"Everybody, everybody of quality, fame and good temper," shouted "Andy" Fulton at the top of his voice.

"Andy" had just finished a lively bowling game with some of his esteemed contemporaries in the political field. He told the young woman the truth. James Francis Burke arrived about 4:30 o'clock, radiant as the sun at its going down, and just as sure his sun would rise some day.

Whether "Andy" Fulton doubted this unspoken word of "Jimmie's" is not positively known, but, at any rate, the politicians, Judge "Barney" McKenna, "Boley" Mullen, Controller Larkin and others of equal notoriety held a quiet "ensemble." A moment late Burke was behind the screens of a gypsy camp. "Boley" Mullen heard it all. According to his statement the sorceress said:

"Well, James, you're an obedient servant of the great G. O. P. The elephant likes you awful well. The sun smiles, but behind its smile I see a dark, ominous cloud. Do you know what that cloud is? No! Well, it's one of those things that may spread, and then again may be driven back with terrific force by an avalanche. The Citizens party is brewing storms, but maybe they won't touch you. Have courage!"

Politicians "Blowed" Themselves.

Burke came out with a rather suspicious smile. He declared the seance was favorable, but Mullen and Controller Larkin all swear that he is really frightened, but that he proposes to try to "make good" by "blowing" himself again today at the picnic.

"Andy" Fulton's sonorous voice was later heard in another part of the grounds delivering a fierce harangue on the virtues of "blowing" oneself for the orphans. The argument prevailed, and thereat some of the politicians plunged deep into their sacks and "blowed" themselves until they were white in the face. But they avow they had lots of fun and propose to fill their sacks anew and go out again today, just for the orphans' sake, and to throw some funny jokes at their contemporaries.

Mlle. Alice Zeno, the aerialist, was not the least of the star performers for the orphans. Despite the fact that she had been quite sick all day, the plucky little woman looked on the faces of thousands of youngsters, and as she said, "couldn't help but smile and tried to forget that she was sick." She got into the balloon smiling, and went up, amid the cheers of the youngsters. This marked the 453th ascension Zeno has made. She went up over 500 feet, and came down in a parachute on a farm about a mile away.

Expect to Clear $15,000.

The little woman was said to have fallen and much excitement prevailed until word came that she had not fallen, but was quite sick. She will make another ascension today.

It is estimated that, counting the evening crowds, fully 15,000 people attended the picnic. Father Lynch states that the committee expects to clear $15,000 this year. It is presumed that there will be a larger crowd there today. The attractions are to be even more interesting and exciting than yesterday. Altogether 32,000 tickets have been sold.

The good women who have charge of the various stands worked earnestly all day, rivaling one another in their efforts to secure the most money for the orphans. All the parishes of the two cities were well represented. There was a goodly gathering of priests there, prominent among them being the Revs. Father Ryan, Canevin, Price, Coyne, McHugh, Hearn and others.

CENSURE FOR A MINISTER

Colored Preacher of Allegheny Criticised for Baptising and Giving Communion to Two Murderers.

A special meeting of the executive board of the Allegheny Baptist General association, colored, will be held today in the Rodman Street Baptist church. The ministers' union of this association on Monday passed resolutions disapproving the action of the Rev. C. D. Patterson, of the Tabernacle Baptist church, Allegheny, in baptizing and giving communion to two men recently hanged for murder. The union declared his course unscriptural and contrary to the usage of the church.

The Red Star college of West Virginia has conferred the degree of doctor of divinity on the Rev. A. M. Lewis of the Metropolitan church, Allegheny; the Rev. C. S. Simms of the Rodman Street church, East End, and the Rev. T. H. C. Mercer of the Good Hope church.

The Rev. O. S. Simms has been selected to read a paper on temperance at the interdenominational Young People's congress to be held at Atlanta, Ga., on August 6-11. Dr. Simms and Dr. Taliferro will represent Pennsylvania at the congress.

Many Worship in Tent.

Nearly 200 worshipers attended the tent services last night conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian Evangelic committee at the corner of Center avenue and Dinwiddie street. The singing is an interesting feature of these outdoor meetings, composed of a children's chorus under the direction of Prof. J. S. Martin.

The Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter of the South Side church conducted the services last night and will conduct them for the remainder of the week. The Rev. Dr. A. B. Jolly will conduct the services next Sunday night.

"A FRIEND IN NEED IS A FRIEND INDEED," SAYS BRUIN.

In the shade of a striped awning, Bruin can take life easy and enjoy himself in Highland park this summer. Through the intercession of The Gazette and the Humane society Director J. Guy McCandless has been induced to order several hundred square feet of fancy duck, which is to be spread over the bear cages during the hot weather. Other friends of Bruin are agitating a movement to provide him a goodly number of electric fans and quantities of cooling liquid things. In the past he has had to content himself with a shadeless cage hardly big enough to hold him. To a big, fur-covered bear, on a summer afternoon, this is a thing most aggravating, and several times one or more of the colony have made their protests both heard and felt at the zoo. Now the tide has turned, thanks to his good friend, "Mr. Coon," and Bruin promises himself a summer made tolerable by all the comforts that civilization can suggest, to replace the cool mountain nooks of his native heath. In the meantime he has promised to beat the "Bad Wolf" to death on sight, for even suggesting that "Mr. Coon" is anything but a most considerate and charitable gentleman.

DECORATORS ARE FORCED TO CLOSE UP TEMPORARILY

The Van Tine-Constable Co. Passes Into the Hands of a Receiver.

WORKING ON THE BIJOU

Company Said to Find Itself at a Disadvantage by Reason of Operating Under a West Virginia Charter. Meeting of Creditors Next Week.

The Van Tine-Constable Company, one of the best known decorating firms in Pittsburgh, has suspended business. Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States court has appointed William R. Blair referee in bankruptcy and yesterday afternoon the American Trust Company was appointed receiver for the firm.

The liabilities of the firm will amount to between $40,000 and $50,000, while its assets, it is claimed, will reach $45,000. The largest creditor is Harry E. Zaring, the treasurer, who has an account amounting to about $30,000. There are a number of local creditors whose accounts are said by members of the firm to be small.

The firm was forced to quit business by the issuing of a foreign attachment by Burge & Co. of Buffalo, said to be one of the largest eastern creditors of the firm. Other decorating firms in New York and Philadelphia are also creditors.

The creditors of the firm will have a meeting in Pittsburgh during the coming week, and it will then be decided whether or not the company will be allowed to begin business again after an accounting has been made.

Working on the Bijou Theater.

One of the largest contracts the Van Tine-Constable Company has on hand is the decoration of the Bijou theater. This contract was taken some time ago. Work was started several weeks ago, and it is the intention of the receivers to go into court and have the court authorize them to continue the decorating of the theater until the work is completed.

The failure of the firm and the closing of its doors caused no little stir among the other business firms in Penn avenue. The firm has had all the business it well could handle for the past two years, and in that time has decorated and redecorated many of the handsomest residences of Pittsburg.

The failure of the firm to secure a Pennsylvania charter at the time it started business here left an opening for a foreign attachment to be issued. The company started in business here six years ago. W. H. Van Tine, the president of the concern, came here from Cleveland. The Messrs. Constable were well-known woodworkers of Erie, Pa. The firm secured a West Virginia charter and opened up in Pittsburgh with a capital stock of $25,000.

Made a Voluntary Assignment.

Of this Mr. Van Tine owned about half and the Constables the other half. A year ago Mr. Van Tine purchased the Constables' interest and took into the firm H. E. Zaring as treasurer. The stock was then divided so that Mr. Van Tine had the controlling interest, owning $20,000 worth of stock, while Mr. Zaring owned $5,000 worth.

W. H. Van Tine, president of the Van Tine-Constable Company, when seen at his home in Ivy street, East End, last night, said: "In order that all the creditors of our firm might come in for an equal share, I asked the court to make a voluntary assignment last Tuesday. This action was taken because we were being pushed hard for settlement by an eastern firm. We closed our doors temporarily yesterday, on the order of the court, until an accounting can be made.

"During the past few months I have been absent from the city a great deal on business matters in which the other members of the firm had no interest, and consequently have been unable to give all the time I desired to our interests here. I have a suit on in New York for nearly $500,000, which has occupied a great deal of my time of late. Our present suspension will in no manner affect any of our contracts, which will all be finished according to specifications.

"Our charter under the laws of West Virginia has been rather unfortunate for us, in that foreign corporations, without a moment's warning, may come in and cause us to quit business. We expect, however, to get our financial matters straightened out in a short time, and with the permission of our creditors will resume business."

K. OF L. CONDEMNS CONNER

His Withdrawal from the Parsons Wing Disapproved by Pittsburgh District Assembly.

Pittsburgh district assembly No. 3, Knights of Labor, held its quarterly meeting yesterday. The meeting condemned the action of John A. Conner, former member of the executive committee of the Parsons wing of the general organization, in withdrawing from the litigation against the Hayes faction, and censured Conner for taking his action while a delegate in the district assembly, without consulting it.

District Master Workman John Fernau and S. D. Moyer, of the salespeople, were elected delegates to the next general assembly of the Parsons wing.

The district convention voted support to the committee on state of the order in the general organization, in taking the appeal from the decision of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, rendered some time ago.

LOCAL FIRMS GET LARGE CONTRACTS

COLORADO FUEL & IRON CO. GIVES ORDERS TOTALLING $1,000,000.

Chief Engineer Closed Deals Yesterday and Tells How His Company Will Mine Its Own Fuel and Ore and Finish Its Products.

Contracts estimated to total $1,000,000 have been given within the past few days to Pittsburgh firms by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company. Chief Engineer A. H. Helander of that company spent yesterday in this city and closed the final details of these contracts.

The firms awarded the work are the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company, the Mesta Machine Company and the American Bridge Company's local plants. The work is to be done for the new steel works and furnaces of the Colorado company at Pueblo.

Chief Engineer Helander left last evening on the Pennsylvania limited on his return to headquarters at Pueblo. At the station he told of the award of the contracts and said: "Pueblo is to be the Pittsburgh of the west, when our plans are carried out, but at the present we have to come to this Pittsburgh for our material. The mountains of Colorado are full of both soft coal and iron ore, and it is expected to develop these fully, as rapidly as possible.

"We are building at Pueblo one of the largest groups of furnaces and rolling mills in the country. We will mine our own fuel and ore, make our own pig iron and roll our own mill products. The Riter-Conley company is to furnish the structural steel for our buildings and smokestacks, the Mesta Machine Company is to equip the mills, and the American Bridge Company is to build the bridges on the railroads connecting the furnaces with the mines.

"We have everything under the same ownership and ready for as economical operation as the Carnegie Steel Company had. There is a great future ahead for the Colorado iron and steel business."

institutions which the vatican desires to be considered as belonging to the church."

Secretary Root concludes by instructing Judge Taft to express to Cardinal Rampolla his pleasure that the visit of the American representative has resulted in a broad basis for harmonious settlement, his thanks for the courtesy shown to Judge Taft, and for the promptness with which the vatican has acted, and his hopes that, though no specific agreement has been reached, the vatican will ultimately find it just to do what has been suggested.

Judge Taft concludes his note to the vatican thus:

"In obedience to Secretary Root's dispatch, I request that the future negotiations on the points raised be held in Manila between an apostolic delegate and the governor, after the information suggested above by Secretary Root has been ascertained and presented."

LONDON, July 17.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says great indignation is felt among Americans in Rome, who are astounded at the utter want of appreciation of the courtesy of the United States which the vatican has shown. An American prelate said to the correspondent:

"The Vatican has befooled us and missed the greatest chance offered to her prestige for a century, and, what is more, the treatment meted out to our mission and the exposure of the unbusinesslike methods of Rome form an incident in our history which Americans will never forget."

The Rome correspondent of the Morning Post declares that the failure of Judge Taft's negotiations with the vatican is attributed there to the influence of the heads of the religious orders, especially to the Jesuit Cardinal Steinhuber, and that the vatican is considered to have sacrificed a splendid opportunity.

CARBOLIC ACID ROUTE TAKEN BY TWO SUICIDES

Mrs. Margaret King and John Andreg Ended Their Lives.

OTHER VIOLENT DEATHS

Mrs. Mary Welsh Died of Poison and is Supposed to Have Taken It Intentionally — Boy Was Drowned and Freight Conductor Killed.

Carbolic acid was used twice yesterday with fatal effects. Mrs. Margaret King of No. 2514 Bedford avenue ended her life by this means, and John Andreg of Millvale killed himself in the same manner. Both were despondent, she because her husband deserted her and Andreg because of financial troubles. The woman lingered four hours after taking the poison, but the man died instantly. She was 24 years old and he was 55. Another woman died very suddenly from poison, taken supposedly with suicidal intent.

Mrs. King ended her life at the home of her mother in Bedford avenue, at 10 o'clock in the morning. She had been ill for two weeks and had been just returned from the Allegheny General hospital. She went to her room about 9 o'clock and remained there until one hour later. The dispirited woman then came down stairs and entered the kitchen. Her mother, Mrs. Fred Luck, was standing in the yard. She walked to the door and raising a vial of the burning fluid to her lips, drained half the contents.

Mrs. Luck, realizing her daughter's act, rushed to her and knocked the half-filled bottle from her hands.

She fell to the floor and became unconscious immediately. Mrs. Luck summoned a physician and he attempted to remove the poison from the woman's system. After working for several hours she was taken to the West Penn hospital and died just as she was being taken into the ward room.

Her step-father, Fred Luck, said that she had been away from home for five years, until five weeks ago. She came home and was heartbroken over the desertion of her husband. She said that after more than four years of married life he left her six months ago.

After drinking four ounces of carbolic acid, John Andreg, a formerly well-known butcher of Millvale, went to the second floor of his residence and dropped unconscious. He was found almost instantly by his family and medical aid was summoned. When the physician arrived he was dead.

He was formerly connected with many business ventures in Millvale. He retired five years ago. Of late years he had been drinking heavily. He leaves a widow and two children.

Mrs. Mary Welsh, aged 28, a domestic at the home of John Fish, at Hito station, died yesterday afternoon from some poison taken, it is alleged, with suicidal intent. She was found unconscious in the yard. Two physicians worked over her for several hours but she died without regaining consciousness.

Walter Biddle, a freight conductor on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, living at Norwood place, McKees Rocks, was killed yesterday while on his train, by his head striking a water spout.

The body of James Fmatama of Natrona, who was drowned Monday in the Allegheny river, was found last night. He was 21 years old and single.

While walking across the Panhandle railroad bridge a man supposed to be W. T. Tiedsworth of No. 152 West Malden street, Washington, Pa., was struck by train No. 50 at 11:30 o'clock last night, and instantly killed. The victim was about 35 years old and had a return ticket to Washington, bought on July 16. He was well dressed and wore a gold ring with the initials "W. T. T."

Yesterday's Sale of Collars, Cuffs and Shirts

was as amazing to us in point of a large gathering as were the remarkable values to the people who came for them.

We expected an audience—a large one; but we did not expect an overflow. Happily the large force of trained salesmen in this department, together with those impressed from other departments was equal to the occasion, and we believe every one of the thousands of buyers was waited upon satisfactorily.

It was the greatest first-day's sale we ever conducted in any single department.

It brought us lessons, too. One was that three or four thousand shirts are not enough to meet the patrons of this department in a special sale. So we shall look out the next time.

For today there are plenty of Collars, Cuffs and Neckties. We are sorry to say the shirts were all taken yesterday—three thousand six hundred of them. The overdue lot came in in the afternoon. There may be a size or so here and there, but nothing worth speaking of.

Collars, 11c each, $1.25 dozen. 20c grade.
Cuffs, 15c pair, $1.70 dozen. 25c grade.
Four-In-Hand Ties, 15c each, 2 for 25c. 50c kind.

GENERAL SMITH IS REPRIMANDED AND IS RETIRED

Weakness in War Fatal, but Cruelty Is Uncalled for, Says the President.

AMERICAN NAME SULLIED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Secretary Root brought from Oyster Bay the finding in the case of Gen. Jacob H. Smith, tried by court-martial at Manila on account of orders issued to Maj. Waller. Gen. Smith was found guilty of the charges by the court and sentenced to be admonished by the reviewing authority. The president has so admonished Gen. Smith and retired him under the law which provides that officers having reached the age of 62 years may be retired at will by the president.

Secretary Root, in referring the finding of the court to the president, said:

"General Smith's written and printed orders, and the actual conduct of military operations in Samar, were justified by this history and conditions of the warfare with the cruel and treacherous savages who inhabited the island, and their entire disregard of the laws of war; were wholly within the limitations of General Order No. 100, of 1863, and were sustained by precedents of the highest authority.

His Subordinates Complimented.

It is due, however, to the good sense and self-restraint of Gen. Smith's subordinates, and their regard for the laws of war, rather than to his own self-control and judgment, that his intemperate and unjustifiable verbal instructions were not followed, and that he is relieved from the indelible stain which would have resulted from a literal compliance with them.

"In view of the findings and sentence, and of the evident infirmities which have made it possible for acts found should exist, it is not longer for the interest of the service that Gen. Smith should continue to exercise the command of his rank. His usefulness as an example, guide and controlling influence for the younger officers of the army is at an end; and as he is already upwards of 62 years of age, I recommend that you exercise the discretion vested in you by law and now retire him from active service."

President Roosevelt, in his order retiring Gen. Smith, says:

"I am well aware of the danger and great difficulty of the task our army has had in the Philippine islands and of the well-nigh intolerable provocations it has received from the cruelty, treachery and total disregard of the rules and customs of civilized warfare on the part of its foes. I also heartily approve the employment of the sternest measures necessary to put a stop to such atrocities and to bring this war to a close.

Must Be No Weakness in War.

"I would be culpable to show weakness in dealing with such foes or to fail to use all legitimate and honorable methods to overcome them. But the very fact that warfare is of such character as to afford infinite provocation for the commission of acts of cruelty by junior officers and the enlisted men must make the officers in high and responsible positions peculiarly careful in their bearing and conduct so as to keep a moral check over any acts of an improper character by such subordinates. Almost universally the higher officers have so borne themselves and so enjoin this necessary check; and with but few exceptions the officers and soldiers of the army have shown wonderful kindness and forbearance in dealing with their foes.

"But there have been exceptions; there have been instances of the use of torture and of improper heartlessness in warfare on the part of individuals or small detachments. In the record of trials ordered by Gen. Smith, the shooting of the native bearers by the orders of Maj. Waller was an act which sullied the American name and can be but partly excused because of Maj. Waller's mental condition at the time; this mental condition being due to the fearful hardship and suffering which he had undergone in his campaign.

Results Hard to Determine.

"It is impossible to tell exactly how much influence language like that used by Gen. Smith may have had in preparing the minds of those under him for the commission of the deeds which we regret. Loose and violent talk by an officer of high rank is always likely to excite to wrongdoing those among his subordinates whose wills are weak or whose passions are strong.

"Gen. Smith has behind him a long career distinguished for gallantry and, on the whole, for good conduct. Taken in the full his work has been such as to reflect credit upon the American army, and therefore upon the nation; and it is deeply to be regretted that he should have so acted in this instance as to interfere with his further usefulness in the army."

KEARNS FOR ROOSEVELT.

Senator Takes Time from His Society Pleasures to Talk Politics.

LONDON, July 16.—(Copyright.)—Senator Kearns of Utah and Mrs. Kearns, who have been in England a week or more, were entertained by Sir Thomas Lipton on the Erin during the early part of the week. Sir Thomas hoisted the stars and stripes when his guests came aboard, and the flag floated over the vessel during their entire stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearns breakfasted with the American ambassador on Tuesday and left today for Scotland. Senator Kearns thinks President Roosevelt the logical candidate of the Republican party at the next election and is sure of his election.

"Mr. Roosevelt," he said, "is especially strong in the west, where he is looked upon as a real typical American."

AGENT BELL PROMOTED.

Well-Known Humane Society Officer Advanced to Superintendency.

James S. Bell, for several years an agent for the Western Pennsylvania Humane society, was yesterday made its superintendent.

In speaking of the appointment President Joseph G. Walter said: "Agent Bell made himself superintendent. The board of managers puts its seal of approval on his work by unanimously promoting him. He is also the only authorized collector of the society and if he continues to show the interest, zeal and efficiency in the work in his more responsible position that he has as agent, I know of no reason why his tenure of office should not be a long one."

President Approves Uniform.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—While Secretary Root was at Oyster Bay the president considered and approved the report of the army uniform board. The order for the new uniform will go into effect January 1, when officers of the army are ordered to be equipped according to the new regulations. Officers serving in the Philippines will be allowed to wear the old uniforms during their service there.

President Wick Retires.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 16.—The Telegram this afternoon announces the retirement of Col. George D. Wick from the presidency of the Youngstown Iron, Sheet & Tube Company, the largest independent industry in the Mahoning valley. Col. Wick, who is in Europe, retires on account of his health. The stockholders will meet next week to elect a successor.

Queen Restored to Health.

THE HAGUE, July 16.—Queen Wilhelmina, who has been convalescing at Castle Schaunberg, near the Rhine, is so far restored to health that she will return home Saturday with her husband.

FREE LABOR WORKS "PEN" MACHINES

VIOLATIONS OF THE MUEHLBRONNER ACT ARE DENIED.

Ex-Mayor Diehl Explains What the Machines Are and How They Are Used, and Says Senator Muehlbronner Should Have Asked for Pass to See.

Power machinery has been installed in the Western Penitentiary and is being daily used in shearing mats and weaving goods. One machine was installed last October for shearing the mats. Two looms for the weaving of goods never before made in the institution were installed two weeks ago.

Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner, author of the Muehlbronner act, which provides for the prohibition of power machinery in penal institutions, heard of the new machinery, and attempted to investigate, but he says he was opposed by Warden W. McC. Johnston, who not only denied him admittance to the prison, but denied that machinery was being used in violation of the law.

Senator Muehlbronner was not satisfied with Warden Johnston's explanation, so he notified some labor leaders, and they quietly started an investigation that has not yet been ended, because the committee having the matter in charge has not found out anything. Senator Muehlbronner also notified the owners of a Philadelphia mat factory, which makes the same kind of goods as are made in the penitentiary, and it is supposed that they have instituted an investigation.

The Muehlbronner act is dated June 18, 1897. Section 3 of it reads:

That no machine operated by steam, hydraulic force, compressed air and other power, except machines operated by hand or foot power, shall be used in any of the said institutions in the manufacture of any goods, wares, articles or things that are manufactured elsewhere in the state.

When the act went into effect power machinery inside the prison walls was taken out and a portion of it set up on the outside. Mats have been made inside, the same as before the passage of the act, and then to be sheared are carted outside and then carted in again.

The power machine for shearing mats recently placed inside the walls is run by free labor, and thus does not conflict with the law. It saves the hauling of the mats to the outside shop and the hauling back again. The attorney of the prison board says this is not a violation of the Muehlbronner act.

William J. Diehl, a member of the prison board, said last night.

"Certainly we are running power machinery, but in running it we keep within the bounds prescribed by Mr. Muehlbronner's act. The law plainly says that we can make by power articles to be used in the prison or by the prisoners. We have set up a machine on the inside to shear the mats, and it is done by free labor.

"If Senator Muehlbronner was not allowed to go inside of the prison and investigate for himself it was, no doubt, because he had failed to provide himself with a pass, which he could have procured of George A. Kelly, president of the board, if he had explained why a pass should be granted him."

DOUBLE TRACK FOR SOUTHWEST BRANCH

Bids Will Be Asked for Work Costing Penney $300,000—Start at Everson.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will ask for bids in a few days for double-tracking part of the Southwest branch. This is the line from Greensburg to Fairchance, with branches tapping the great Connellsville coke region. The purpose is to provide better facilities for bringing the traffic to the furnaces and factories of this district in particular, and to all other parts reached by the Pennsylvania railroad in general.

As soon as possible the contracts will be let. Work is to be rushed, for the railroad company wishes to have the work completed this fall. The work involves the construction of several steel spans of 30 or 40 feet in length besides the present bridges over streams and gullies, the laying of a great deal of masonry and a large amount of grading through a rough country. It is estimated that the cost of this improvement will be about $300,000.

JUDGE BEATS OFF A DOG.

Vicious Animal Attacks William D. Wallace's Team at New Castle and Injures Valuable Horse.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 16.—(Special.)—Judge William D. Wallace had an exciting experience with a mad dog while driving with his family last night. The dog sprang at the horses' heads and then sank his teeth into the leg of a $900 horse. The horses plunged wildly, but the judge held to the lines and kept them from running off, while with his free hand he grasped the whip and beat the dog over the head until it loosened its hold.

The judge jumped to the road and drove the dog into the hedge, then hurried back to secure the services of a veterinarian to treat his horse. Judge Wallace learned later that the dog belonged to John A. Metzler, a gardener, and had recently attacked five persons. He sent orders to the owner to kill the animal.

DR. BROWNING GIVEN $29,239.25 FOR HIS SERVICES

Judge Over Grants One-Twelfth of Claim Against Magee Estate.

WILL APPEAL HIS CASE

Court Holds It Incredible That Physician Was Engaged All of His Time at Night and Says Bill Is Unreasonable.

Judge J. W. Over, in orphans court, yesterday handed down an opinion upon the claim of Dr. W. C. Browning of Philadelphia against the estate of the late C. L. Magee, in which the court allows the physician $29,239 25 for professional services in attending Mr. Magee. Dr Browning's claim was for $817,000 for services only.

In his opinion Judge Over extensively reviews the matters leading up to the claim, all of which were brought out at the hearings during the audit. The court declares it has no doubt Mr. Magee procured the doctor's services with the full knowledge of his rates. The evidence of John I. Shaw relative to Mr. Magee mentioning something about bills received is compared with that of Mrs. Magee, who never saw any bills, after which the court says that had any bills been produced at the hearing it would have been prima facie evidence.

As to showing the doctor's services to Mr. Magee and identified by Dr. Browning's nurse, the court mentions that the nurse did not have exclusive possession of the cards and it would have been possible for the doctor to substitute other cards, consequently the cards are not competent evidence.

Atlantic City Evidence Conflicts.

The court then repeats the testimony as to the number of times Dr. Browning visited Mr. Magee ex sworn to by the nurse. From the second visit until the middle of May, 1900, the court allows $10 for each office visit during that period and $100 a day for the two weeks' trip to Hot Springs, Va.

The court says that the testimony upon the claim of the doctor for $82,000 for attention to Mr. Magee while in Atlantic City from July 11, 1900, until September 1 that year is very conflicting. The court declares that under the construction of the act of June 11, 1891, the doctor was competent to testify in contradiction of adverse witnesses as to the time devoted to the patient, and as to what occurred at the periods they testified to, but was not competent to testify in contradiction of any of them that he was in attendance when the witness was not.

As to the Atlantic City trip, the court says it is singular that the doctor did not call witnesses to testify as to the time he was actually at the seashore, and that the claim for this period is not sustained by the evidence. The court remarks it is customary for Philadelphia professional men to make frequent visits to the seashore, and that the doctor no doubt combined business with pleasure in visiting his patient there. The court allows $100 for each visit at Atlantic City, and $5 for each telephonic communication.

Nurse's Figures Unreasonable.

The testimony of the doctor's nurse upon the claim of $350 a night for services after November 1, 1900, the court says is fully corroborated as to the agreement for night services, but not as to the number of hours to be charged. The court says it does not find Mr. Magee agreed to pay for eight hours each night, and that it is incredible that the doctor should be engaged ordinarily all of the time at night, or that his night practice averaged him $300 per night. The amount fixed by Miss Garrett, the doctor's nurse, as compensation for night hours, the court says, is unreasonable, and the only evidence tending to corroborate her was that of one witness, to which little weight is given, that Mr. Magee told him that his illness cost him about $1 a minute. The court says it is not satisfied that the senator agreed to pay for eight hours each night, or that the doctor complied with the agreement by giving up his night practice.

The doctor's claim for night hours, as presented by him, is disallowed, except for services actually rendered. The court concludes that 100 visits were made under these conditions, allowing $40 a visit, and $440 for extra services during that time.

It is held that the evidence that Mr. Magee was suffering from an incurable disease is immaterial, and conceding that the doctor was mistaken in his diagnosis it is no defense to the claim, and recovery was not a condition precedent to payment of his services.

No Foundation for One Claim.

As to the claim for profits upon stock deals the court says there is evidence that Mr. Magee opened a $150,000 investment account, but it only shows the intention of the decedent to make a gift of that amount was predicted upon the expectation of recovery, founded upon the doctor's assurances, and there is no foundation for the claim, which would have made the doctor's full claim $467,000.

The decree of distribution in the estate shows a total of $5,466,735 55, of which credits are allowed making the net balance for distribution $2,287,039 33. This is distributed as follows: Claims of Dr. Browning, $29,239 25; Allegheny National bank, notes and interest, $28,881 60; First National bank, notes and interest, $8,-564 56; to the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, trustee under the will, $1,354,-909 71. Distribution of securities to the amount of $724,454 97 is suspended, these to be accounted for in the future. Mrs. Magee's income from the balance is $80,-046 67.

Dr. Browning Will Not Accept.

Attorney W. B. Rodgers, who represents Dr. Browning, was greatly surprised when he learned that the court had cut the bill down to such a figure. He said they would take the case to the supreme court without a doubt.

Dr. Browning, when seen by a Gazette representative at his office in Philadelphia, stated that he would not accept $29,000, when he felt he was entitled to $817,000. He said the verdict was about as satisfactory to him as one for 29 cents would have been; that he would rather have his time back, but that the judges could not give. He had not consulted his attorneys, but said he had no doubt that the case would be appealed. He said his claim of $817,000 was for professional services only, $100,000 representing the bill as rendered by him, and the balance what was given him by the senator, who had doubled the bill for night services voluntarily. This did not include $150,000 an alleged additional gift.

FATHER HICKEY WANTS CONNOLLY ESTATE SETTLED

Nearly $1,000,000 Will Be Divided Among Charitable Institutions.

HOME FOR AGED FEMALES

Braddock Priest Anxious to Establish "The Connolly-Hickey Home" Provided for in Will—Legal Tangle May Prevent Action for Ten Years.

C. F. and E. J. McKenna, attorneys for the Rev. John Hickey of Braddock, filed a petition in orphans court for the settlement of an estate that has been growing for 28 years, and in which several charitable institutions are largely interested.

In 1874 Martin Connolly, a prominent flour merchant and baker of the Fourth ward, died. He left a very valuable estate. It included the block in Penn avenue, beginning at Seventh street and running to Maddocks place, on which are standing several business houses, and three warehouses facing Seventh street and extending back to Maddocks place. He also left a long list of bank and insurance stocks. By his will several bequests to relatives were made, but the bulk of the real and personal estate was devised to St. Paul's orphan asylum, St. Michael's seminary, Mercy hospital and to the Rev. Father Hickey for founding a home for aged and indigent females.

The will provided that all the real and personal property was to remain unsold for 10 years after the death of the testator and then be divided with all the accumulations in trust for the charities named. By a later clause Connolly left his entire estate for her natural life to Sarah Connolly, his wife. He had no children.

On Mr. Connolly's death his widow entered into possession of the estate. She survived him for 26 years, dying two years ago. After Mrs. Connolly's death the question of distribution came up. The attorneys for the executor held that a possible construction of the will was that the 10-year period was to commence with Mrs. Connolly's death. The interested parties thought the period had been fully taken up in the 26 years Mrs. Connolly survived her husband. It was deemed best that the matter should be settled in court, and this led to filing the petition.

Father Hickey sets forth in his petition that he was named in the will with the late Rt. Rev. M. Domenec as an advisory executor and that he believes the intention of the testator was to have the charities named as the objects of his bounty come into possession of their respective bequests without unnecessary delay. Acting under the power given in the will, a home for aged and indigent females has been incorporated under the name of the Connolly-Hickey home, by Father Hickey and other citizens of Braddock, and plans for building and conducting it are awaiting the payment of the proceeds of the devise in the will. The petition also sets forth the needs of the other eleemosynary institutions which are legatees, and asks that the 10 years' trust created by the will be declared terminated by the death of Mrs. Connolly, and that the executors be permitted to file their final account and be discharged. The other legatees and persons interested filed a paper asking for the same decree. July 30 was fixed for the return of the citation.

The value of the estate is variously estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000. The lowest figure placed on the real estate is $300,000. The stocks are all of a high class, some of them being original certificates issued when the institutions were founded, and their value can be fixed only by actual sale.

DOG FIGHT MADE TROUBLE.

Couple's Matrimonial Difficulties Started Over Wife's Rescue of Her Pet.

Howard O. Turner, master in the divorce suit of Emma Hille against Gerhard Hille, filed his report recommending a decree.

Mrs. Hille claims that their first trouble arose over a dog fight. She owns a dog and a neighbor owns a bulldog. One day she went outside and saw the dogs engaged in a battle. Her husband was standing near watching the fight. She says she attempted to stop the fight by beating the bulldog. This made her husband angry, and she claims he followed her into the house, knocked her against the door and threatened to brain her.

Their next trouble occurred, Mrs. Hille avers, over a pair of socks, when her husband knocked her down. On another occasion he knocked her over a stove, broke two of her teeth and smashed the furniture.

Decrees in divorce were granted to Everett T. Marshall against Mary Marshall, and to Robert E. Holliday against Mary Holliday.

ELKS' DAY DREW CROWD OF 25,000

THRONGS VISITED CARNIVAL IN McKEESPORT YESTERDAY.

Public Marriage Was One of the Features—Mayor Black Kissed Bride. Visiting Elks Were Royally Entertained.

The most interesting feature of the Elks' carnival at McKeesport yesterday was the public marriage of Walter Nickolk and Miss Mary Matthews of Osceola, a small mining town on the Youghiogheny river. The marriage took place on a platform in the Midway, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the presence of about 10,000 people.

Mayor Robert J. Black of McKeesport performed the ceremony, and immediately after he had completed the duties of his office saluted the bride with a kiss, and publicly congratulated her. The young couple also received the public congratulations of the McKeesport lodge of Elks. After the ceremony the couple was presented with about $300 worth of presents.

The bride's trousseau and the groom's wedding suit were also presented by merchants of the city, and after the ceremony yesterday afternoon the managers of the carnival extended Mr. and Mrs. Nickolk the privilege of entering free all the shows on the Midway, and later they were given a reception at the White hotel, leaving after this for their home in Osceola.

The carnival yesterday was attended by 25,000 persons, the largest crowd of the week, it being Elks' day. The Elks themselves were out in force and bands of them thronged the streets all day. Visiting lodges from various points were entertained last night, and a big display of fireworks was given.

Extra police were placed on the city force, and many thefts and picking of pockets were reported to the police. The Midway is well supplied with officers in plain clothes, and old offenders are being dealt with promptly. Today there will be another marriage in one of the shows of the Midway, the contracting parties being Leander Spaulding, assistant electrician of the Bostock Ferari Carnival Company, and Ometa, one of the dancers with the show. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. James A. Maxwell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

ONE SALARY HALTED BY ALLEGHENY SELECTMEN

Ordinance Increasing Pay of Superintendent of Water Bureau Held Up.

At a meeting of the Allegheny select council yesterday afternoon, all the ordinances before that body fixing the salaries of the city employes were passed, except that increasing the salary of Supt. J. L. Brown of the bureau of water, to $3,000 a year. Brown's salary is now $2,500 and he asked that it be increased to $3,300. It was cut in the finance committee to $2,000. The ordinance failed to pass for want of a legal majority, the vote being 7 to 5, as follows: Ayes—Messrs. Brown, Easton, Einstein, Snaman, Stewart, Tschumie and President Torrance—7. Nays—Messrs. John A. Born, Peter Born, Deverts, Hock and Trimble—5.

The ordinance for rebuilding and relocating the Superior avenue viaduct over the railroad tracks from California avenue to Pacific avenue, with approaches on Preble avenue and West Market street, and that granting the Ohio Connecting Railway Company and the Pennsylvania Company rights of way from a point 730 feet on the west side of Preble avenue to a point in the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company, at or near Island avenue, both of which were amended at the last meeting of the select branch, passed without opposition.

Upon the call of wards the following papers were introduced and referred:

Ordinances authorizing the sale of the Kerr street and Lafayette avenue engine house properties; purchase of supplies for the department of public safety, fixing the wages of the mechanical engineer and draughtsman in the office of the superintendent of the bureau of water at $125 and $90 per month, respectively; superintendent of the bureau of parks at $2,400 per year; caulkers in the bureau of water at $2 25 per day; submitting to a vote of the electors the question of increasing the city's indebtedness $20,625 for the grading, paving and curbing of McIntyre avenue; repealing an ordinance granting the Pennsylvania Casting Company the right to lay and maintain a switch across Preble avenue, in the Ninth ward.

Switzerland in Canada.

At a point 145 miles north of Toronto on the Grand Trunk railway system is reached one of the most magnificent districts in the Highlands of Ontario, and which has been named by many world-wide travelers the "Switzerland of America." The region is known as the Lake of Bays district and comprises a series of connected lakes, over which large steamers are navigated. What greatly adds to the Lake of Bays value as a health-giving and sporting resort is the unmatched purity of the air one breathes upon its heights. The cranky grumbler, unless he is a confirmed dyspeptic, forgets his ills under its reviving influence in less than a week, and sees life's problems in a smoother light if he only has the sense and capacity to enjoy the good things in this life which nature and Providence have prepared for him. The whole region is placed high above the level of Lake Ontario, and its bracing morning breeze, which rivals the celebrated atmosphere of Pike's Peak, Col., imparts new lung power and fresh vitality. DEMOCRATS ARE HOUSE DIVIDED, READY TO FALL

CARMACK IN THE FRAY

Fears the Philippine Issue Will Be Lost Sight of, and Trots It Out. Cable and Griggs in a Clash of Authority.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 903 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.

Republican politicians interested in the congressional campaign are inclined to speak jeeringly of their friends, the enemy, in one respect. They call attention to the multiplicity of "issues" and superabundance of managers in the Democratic ranks, and think that some benefit will accrue to the Republicans thereby.

The latest incident commented upon was the return of Senator Carmack to the city and his interview. Senator Carmack had been away since congress adjourned, and the Democratic managers had been plugging away on the trust issue. The president had made a night march on them in his Pittsburgh speech on trusts, and they were trying to catch up and get on the firing line again. In the meantime the Philippine issue had been lost to sight. Senator Carmack got to town.

"This will never do," he says in effect. "Where's the Philippine issue? Trot it out."

So he gave out an interview designed to arouse interest in that subject and declared that it would still be to the fore as a campaign issue.

Dubois After the Trusts.

Then Senator Dubois stirred up the trusts again, and Chairman Griggs of the Democratic campaign committee took a few shots at the question, being followed by Representative Newlands and other Democrats. Meanwhile ex-Senator Gorman was stacking up amunition against the beef trust and Senator Patterson and Senator Rawlins are understood to be brushing up more Philippine issues.

The Republicans are expecting to see trouble among the Democrats over the divided authority which they say exists in the Democratic management. Ben Cable is in charge of the Western headquarters, located in Chicago, and some of his friends supposed he would have absolute control of the campaign in that section. But Chairman Griggs has let it be known that he is the chairman of the committee and has a few words to say from time to time about the management of the western proposition. Mr. Griggs is going west in a few days, and will look over the situation in Chicago, Mr. Cable still being absent on a trip to Europe, then fortify his strength against the coming warfare on the octopi and the imperialists. Mr. Griggs will go all over the west and will make a personal and searching investigation of the political situation in all the states beyond the Mississippi.

President Has Them Interested.

There is no question that Democratic managers are taking a great deal of interest in the president's attitude toward trusts and it is furnishing them a subject of active work. Their operations for the present seem to be confined to attempts to discredit the president's sincerity and his ability to secure the following of his party in congress. The Democratic party has been exceedingly active in getting into the columns of the press, while the Republican committee has not thus far stuck a type. The Republican committee has not even established headquarters. The managers are widely scattered on vacation intent, but they will get down to business before the end of the month. Chairman Babcock and Secretary Overstreet will meet in New York within 10 days and select headquarters. Thereafter the work of the committee will proceed with a swing.

Both committees, however, have great quantities of printed speeches stored away, ready for distribution as soon as there is a call for them. The Democratic committee printed some speeches of Republicans and the Republicans some speeches of Democrats, and there will be a cross-fire of campaign literature. Senator Hoar's speech on the Philippines was printed by the Democrats and hundreds of thousands of copies will be sent out.

POLITICS IN BRAGG CASE.

His Recall Would Hurt Spooner's Chances for Re-Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.—(Special.)—Officials of the state department and the Cuban legation are watching with interest the dispatches from Havana, showing the development of public interest in the case of Consul General Bragg, whose unfortunate references to the Cuban people found their way into print. It is said here that the recall of Gen. Bragg depends entirely upon whether or not public sentiment in Cuba will force President Palma to make a protest to the American government. There is a decided inclination to overlook the matter here.

A bit of politics is involved in the incident, inasmuch as Consul General Bragg was appointed at the suggestion of Senator Spooner of Wisconsin, and his recall at this time, it is thought, would have a serious effect on Mr. Spooner's candidacy for re-election, which the administration is disposed to assist as much as possible.

OPERATORS QUIT WORK.

Twelve Telegraph Offices Are Deserted Along Two Railroads.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 16.—(Special.)—The Fairmont division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston railroad were seriously inconvenienced today by a dozen operators resigning. It could not be called a strike because the men resigned individually and left their places, giving as their reason that they were tired working for $45 a month.

Most of them are night operators, and by chance all met here today. Among the places left vacant were Morgantown, Smithfield, Uniontown and Mt. Braddock on the Baltimore & Ohio; Smock, Tucker and Elizabeth on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston road.

CAMPBELL'S REMNANT SALE.

Record-Breaking Bargains of Special Interest to Women.

This long-expected and eagerly looked-for event takes place today and tomorrow—all remnants, slow sellers, odds and ends and broken lines, will be offered at one-half, one-third, one-fourth and even less their former prices—the shrewd shopper knows what that means—even a half their regular prices often means the same as a third the prices quoted in other stores. When such an immense establishment as this decides on crowding at least four days' business into two—it necessarily means the cutting of prices in the same proportion—and such has been the case—prices on all goods are invariably less than they could even be manufactured for, much less bought for. All past bargain-giving has been totally eclipsed in the effort to make this remnant sale the greatest these cities have ever known. Special mention should be made of the price-cutting on dress fabrics—thousands of remnants have been accumulating the past spring. Just such a sale as this has been eagerly anticipated and these departments are prepared as never before with clean, fresh goods, in good lengths, good styles and priced out of all proportion to their actual values. The bargain basement should not be overlooked. Thesemammoth economical salerooms will be taxed to their utmost today, for thrifty housewives are coming to understand the great savings possible by shopping here. But to mention all departments would be out of the question. An invitation is extended to all the readers of this paper to be on hand today. Promptness and complete satisfaction are assured every one who attends. For further particulars see advertisement on page 5 of this paper.

WILL BUILD NEW VESSEL.

Independent Morgantown Line May Construct a Duplicate of the Elizabeth.

The Monongahela Packet Company, the new independent Morgantown line, contemplates building a side wheel steamer, modeled after the fast Elizabeth. C. F. Scheafer and C. F. Foster have both talked over the matter. Mr. Scheafer said: "My idea is to employ some one who can make an exact model of the steamer Elizabeth and build strictly after her model, for there is no disputing the fact that she is the fastest vessel that ever plowed the waters of the Monongahela.

"I am willing to put my share of money in the new vessel, for I believe that there is good investment for a strictly passenger line of steamers up the Monongahela valley for summer travel. The business will come if the people get the service."

Mr. Foster says that the new line has come to stay and has no intention of buying or selling out to any other company. He says that if the new boat is built it must be ready for service by May 1 next, for that is will have to make as good speed as the Elizabeth before the company takes it off the builders' hands. If the craft is built he says that it will be the most modern vessel that has ever run on the Monongahela river.

News of the Rivers.

The ferryboat at Clarksville, Tenn., sunk last Monday.

The Fred Wilson arrived in port yesterday with an empty tow.

The levee roustabouts at Louisville call the Wash Honshell the Wash Hogshell.

The steamer Virginia is on good time and is expected in port early tomorrow night.

Capt. David Spencer was a passenger to Belpre last night on the steamer Queen City.

The local steamboat inspectors went to Brownsville yesterday to inspect the steamer Gold.

The towboat Exporter has left Louisville for St. Louis, with a tow of 32 pieces of Pittsburgh coal.

The snagboat E. A. Woodruff yesterday removed a sunken flat at Beswickley and then proceeded south.

The steamers Greenwood and Lorena are due in port tonight. The Greenwood leaves tomorrow for Charleston.

Capt. Joseph Price who was reported as seriously ill, is convalescent and was at pilots' headquarters yesterday.

The steamer Steel Queen has had her hull painted since she went on Phillips docks and will have her shaft in place within a few days.

The J. B. Finley and W. W. O'Neil were expected to pass Cairo yesterday on their way south. The Defender and Joseph B. Williams are below Memphis.

The telephone number on the "Yellow" steamboat is 3570 Court. The Gertrude, leaving from there yesterday for Morgantown, carried a big batch of pipe and hundreds of melons.

Every effort is being made to have the Davis island dam in place by tonight. The weirs were raised yesterday and the main pass will be raised beginning this morning. There is 4.5 feet of water in the Pittsburgh harbor. There is plenty yet for necessary purposes, but after today the water will be scant, unless the dam is put in place.

A raft of 11,000,000 feet of lumber was recently brought out of the upper Mississippi river in one tow to St. Louis. It was handled by the raftboat Sahara and towboat Satellite. It is the largest tow of the kind ever delivered at St. Louis. If that amount of lumber had been hauled by railroad instead, at 18,000 feet to the car the average carload, it would have required 611 cars.

The last monolith has been laid at dam No. 12 on the Monongahela river and the lock proper is now complete, making No. 10 and 12 finished, so far as the masonry is concerned. Work is being pushed on the other locks and if high stages of water do not interfere, the contractors hope to be able to rush along the work before cold weather begins. It will be 18 months, however, before the upper Monongahela river dams are completed, so as to enable navigation to be extended to Fairmont.

Pilots of three different packets are receiving blank agreements from Pilot's Corporation of New Jersey offering steady employment for five years at the regular rates when actively engaged. When they are not at work $75 a month is guaranteed. In return the pilots agree to work for only such masters as designated by the corporation. Many of the pilots do not look with favor at the proposals of the new association, as they say it would form a trust, placing the entire river traffic in the hands of the corporation. All the pilots would be in the employ of the corporation, they say, and the rates to masters could be greatly increased.—St. Louis Republic.

RECORD OF LATE WETZEL COUNTY OIL WELLS

Northeast of the Genine Robinson tract in Wetzel county, W. Va., and on the west side of the Folsom development, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the M. M. McIntire farm into the Gordon and has a show for a producer. The well produced 30 barrels from the top of the sand the first 24 hours. The same company's No. 9 on the Genine Robinson tract, drilled into the sand last Monday, is holding up at 100 barrels a day, and Miller Bros.' No. 1 on the E. A. Talkington farm, in the same district, is producing 200 barrels a day.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Company's No. 2 on the F. F. McIlvain farm has been drilled into the first pay and produced 25 barrels the first 24 hours.

In the Cameron end of the Marshall county development, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have completed their test on the Thompson heirs' farm and have a 15-barrel pumper.

In the Stewart district, Tyler county, J. A. Straka & Co. have completed a test on D. W. Williamson's farm and have a very small well in the Cow Run sand.

Dusters for Buckeyes.

On the Ohio side, in the very shallow sand territory near Chester Hill, Morgan county, Smith, Halbert & Moore have completed their No. 17 on the Lane Armstrong farm and had the traditional luck—a duster—that attaches to that number. On Wolf creek, D. Gunsburg has completed a test on the Arthur Pugh farm and has a duster.

Benedict & Co. had no better success at their test on the John Thomas farm.

Heine & Mairs have completed No. 2 on the N. Adrain farm and have a very small pumper.

The Midland Company has completed Nos. 157 as d 158 on the big E. R. Dale tract. The first falls to the duster list and the last is a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Wilding district, Washington county, Ohio, Longfellow Bros. have completed a second test on the M. Rubrake farm and have a 25-barrel producer.

In the Corning district, Athens county, Frank Haskell & Co. have completed No. 8 on the A. Post farm and have a small pumper—less than 5 barrels a day.

Good Maxon Sand Well.

On Rock run, Pleasants county, Mallory Bros. & Co. have a surprise at their No. 5 on the Jacob Morrison farm. The well is producing 200 barrels a day from the Maxon sand and develops a new feature. This has been regarded all along as Keener sand territory.

Southeast of Wellsburg, Brooke county, W. Va., the Carter Oil Company has started to drill its test on the Underwood farm deeper, and the well is reported to have made one 10-gge and two small flows. The oil is very light in color and gravity and there is some speculation as to which sand formation it comes from. At first it was thought to be the Berea Grit, but it is now claimed that the well is not deep enough to reach that stratum.

The Southwest Pennsylvania Pipe Line Company contemplated laying a line to the well, but decided to wait for further developments. Leasing has been quite active in that part of Brooke county, but as yet no move is making to start new work. The Carter Company has erected three tanks at its wildcat on the Underwood farm and will now proceed to make a thorough test.

In the new extension of the Smith's Ferry field in Beaver county, Pa., Galey Bros. have completed their No. 4 on the W. W. Dawson farm and have a very small pumper.

In the Leglesville district, Lamberton & Co. have drilled their test on the Christ Wagner farm through the 100-foot and have a duster.

In the Speechley sand district in Butler county, Pa., Thomas W. Phillips has completed No. 2 on the J. Kuhn farm and has a 4-barrel pumper.

The Devonian Oil Company has drilled in a test on the A. Starr farm and has a show for an 8-barrel pumper. The Southern Oil Company's No. 2 on the Sutton Harper farm is good for six barrels a day and the same company's test on the W. H. and D. W. Barnhart farm is very light.

In the Mara district the Hazelwood Oil Company has completed No. 2 on the Sophia Hesselnihle farm and has a pumper good for less than five barrels a day.

FREIGHT HANDLERS GO BACK TO WORK

Strike Which Cost Chicago $10,000,000 Ends in Victory for the Railroads.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 16.—Renewed activity on the part of Chicago business men followed the settlement of the freight handlers' and teamsters' strike today, and at the close of business hours tonight thousands of tons of freight had been sent to and from the depots. Every one of the 24,000 strikers who could obtain employment returned to work by 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is estimated that the strike cost the business men of Chicago $10,000,000. In order to guard against such a contingency in the future the business interests which suffered through the strike will join in pledging themselves, it is said, not to sign union agreements which do not guard them against sympathetic strikes. On the other hand, the labor unions are fighting to secure the right to abrogate agreements for the purpose of ordering sympathetic strikes.

The freight handlers blame the national officers of the teamsters for the loss of the strike. They declare that the strike shows the necessity for incorporating in all agreements a reservation which will permit strikes.

Credit for the settlement rests with the state board of arbitration.

Cured by Pe-ru-na of Systemic Catarrh.

An Interesting Letter from Mrs. M. K. Bousch, of Richmond, and Her Little Daughter, Pearl.

Mrs. M. K. Bousch, Richmond, Va., writes:

"I had catarrh all through my system for two years and could get no relief. I was advised to try Peruna, and I have taken five bottles of it and am well and better now than I have been for years. I can advise any one who has catarrh of any part of the body to take Peruna. My little girl, who is eleven years old had catarrh, but was cured by Peruna. Before I began to take Peruna I was sick all the time, but now I am entirely cured and all praise is due Peruna."—Mrs. M. K. Bousch.

Miss Pearl Bousch, writes: "When I was a baby I contracted catarrh, and was doctored by several good physicians, but none did me any good. My mother was taking Peruna at the time and gave some of it to me, and I soon began to improve, and am now well and fat as a little pig. I am twelve years old. The doctors told mother I had the consumption, but it was only catarrh."—Miss Pearl Bousch.

It is no longer a question as to whether Peruna can be relied on to cure all such cases. During the many years in which Peruna has been put to test in all forms and stages of acute and chronic catarrh no one year has put this remedy to greater test than the past year.

Peruna is the acknowledged catarrh remedy of the age. Dr. Hartman, the compounder of Peruna, has written a book on the phases of catarrh peculiar to women, entitled, "Health and Beauty." It will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice, gratis.

R·I·P·A·N·S

I had been troubled with my stomach for the past sixteen or seventeen years, and, as I have been acting as a drug clerk for the past thirteen years, I have had a good chance to try all remedies in the market, but never found anything, until we got in a supply of Ripans Tabules, that did me any good. They have entirely cured me. At times I could hold nothing on my stomach, and I had a sour stomach most all the time; in fact, I was miserable, and life was hardly worth living. I was called cross and crabbed by my friends, but now they all notice the change in me.

No Reason for Coal Strike.

As the delegates to the national conventions of miners gather at Indianapolis the chances are against a general strike. If President John Mitchell's words have any significance he is opposed to the proposition, for he says he believes the anthracite strike will be won "without calling on anybody for help." Mr. Mitchell has great influence and it is probable a majority of delegates have been instructed to vote as he dictates.

It is true the railroads and some other consumers have been trying to store coal. There has been little opportunity for any one to get a large stock on hand. That, however, is no indication that a strike is looked for. It is rather a wise precaution against the unexpected and unnatural. The Pittsburgh district miners, for example, have much to lose and little to gain by entering upon such a foolish strike. It can have no other effect than to temporarily paralyze business, and, if ordered, will certainly end in the serious injury of the mine workers. The miners of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois have no better reason for striking than those in the Pittsburgh district. They have steady employment, fair wages and are getting a little ahead in the world. A strike will put them back.

Retail Trade Activity.

Whether it be due to the unusual extension of pleasant shopping weather far into the summer, or another evidence of the abounding prosperity enjoyed throughout the country, it is certain that the volume and extent of the usual spring and early summer retail trade season will show large gains over those of former seasons. Time was, and not so very long ago, either, when the retail merchants, both of large and small trade, prepared for what is known as the "dull season" early in June, expecting after the middle of that month to barely cover "running expenses" during the months of July and August. Shoppers either found the weather too uncomfortable or else felt it necessary to restrict the purchase of supplies to only such as were actually needed during the hot weather, when money was required for vacation purposes, or else to tide over the dull season of hard times. These conditions have been vastly changed in recent years. The retailer finds no occasion to cut off his expenditures for fresh stocks, nor does he commit the old folly of discontinuing his advertising because the weather is warm or the shopping season is past.

The modern retail merchant doubles his energies, remains wide awake no matter what the weather conditions, and by liberal and judicious use of publicity keeps the public thoroughly informed as to the great stock movements over which he presides. The consequence is that there are no longer great bare spots in the year's record of retailing among merchants of this class. Of all the factors in this new order of things so clearly demonstrated in Pittsburgh shopping circles this season, we doubt whether even the good times and the cool weather are nearly so important for good as that all-powerful lever of twentieth-century business—publicity.

Gen. Adna R. Chaffee.

The war department has given fresh proof of its belief that war in the Philippines is over by announcing the transfer of Gen. Chaffee from the command of the army in the Islands to the army post on Governors Island, N. Y. Gen. Chaffee will, it is said, return to the United States within the next few weeks or by September 1. His homecoming will doubtless not be accompanied by any spectacular display, but certainly the nation owes a debt of gratitude to this manly and courageous soldier, who has won fame on more than one battlefield and whose recent work in the Philippine islands demonstrates his ability as an executive officer as well as his skill and generalship as a military leader. No man in the United States army stands higher in the esteem of his country than Adna R. Chaffee, and the government has again and again testified to his bravery and meritorious services by promotions for gallant conduct on the field. He was twice breveted during the Civil war for displays of unusual courage. As an Indian fighter on the frontier later he was again singled out for distinguished promotion because of his conspicuous courage in an engagement with the Comanches and for a cavalry charge on the Red river in Texas that will always stand as one of the most daring acts of indian warfare ever recorded in the history of our military operations on the frontier.

In Cuba and later in Peking, Gen. Chaffee won worldwide praise for the display of soldierly qualities that stamped him as a man of marvelous courage and resource in emergencies. Since his occupancy of the position as commander-in-chief of the army in the Philippines he has combined high executive abilities with admirable skill and force as a commanding officer and will return to his native land with a substantial claim upon the honor and glory of having been more largely instrumental in bringing the Filipino rebellion to an end than any other military leader connected with the operations of our army in the islands.

It will not do to say that Gen. Chaffee has not made mistakes. A man of his vast will power and schooled to rely largely upon his own judgment would be more than human did he not grow self-opinionated and obstinate in the exercise of his power at times. But take him all in all Adna R. Chaffee is a splendid type of the American soldier, whose devotion and courage have in all epochs of our history gained the praise and admiration of the world.

Why Business Is Clogged.

In some quarters the argument is advanced that the 11-acre site at Bouquet street would cost as much as the 32-acre site optioned in behalf of the city. It is also pointed out that bonds would not have to be issued for either, as the amount in addition to bonds already issued might be carried by an appropriation to be met by direct taxation. Meantime the organ of the political machine charges the delay to the "ripper" legislation, averring that city business has been retarded ever since that law passed.

Whatever clogging of the municipal machinery there has been as a result of the "ripper" legislation has been due to the deliberate interference of the machine remnant in councils and the machine officials installed by Gov. Stone in pursuance of a corrupt bargain. Everybody knows delays have occurred from that cause. As to carrying the excess cost of a site in an appropriation next spring and raising the money by direct taxation, it is slightly preferable to making another issue of bonds. The better way, however, is to get the money by indirect taxation by adopting Controller Larkin's revenue ordinances—a case in point where the city business is delayed by the machine remnant as a result of the "ripper" legislation, or, more definitely, in retaliation for the result of the last city election.

No doubt a site could be secured and paid for if the machine element would consent to do business in a legitimate manner. No doubt the necessary funds could be realized from indirect taxation if the neglected sources of proper revenue were given attention. But the plan of the discredited "organization" is to prevent all city improvements with a view to again securing control for the advantage of its members. The people are not being deceived, though, and will not be.

The New Chinese Minister.

One remark of Liang Chen Tung, the new Chinese minister to the United States, will enlist friendly attention in this country. That is his declaration that before he takes up his official residence at Washington he is going to Canton for his two boys, that he may bring them along and give them a thoroughly American education, which has been of so much use to himself. His Paris interview contains other declarations of state import, such as the assurance given him by the emperor and empress dowager that they appreciate the American attitude in the late Chinese troubles, but his personal desire to educate his boys here, where he was educated, is the highest compliment.

Of course, we shall all be sorry to lose Wu Ting Fang, who became so much imbued with the American spirit of freedom as to feel at liberty to point out to us what he deemed our greatest faults. Yet there is the consolation that the new minister from China is even more an American, a product of our college life, ripened during three terms as an attache of the legation at Washington.

Volcanoes and Mine Explosions.

Considerable contumely has been heaped upon the acting state geologist for his suggestion that there might be an indirect connection between the eruption of Mont Pelee and the mine disaster at Johnstown. Some of the comment has been far more ridiculous than the geologist's suggestion. That official's basis for deduction is the average readings of the mercurial barometer at the Harrisburg weather station, which give it an apparent elevation of seven feet more since the eruption than before. The geologist assumes the elevation to be real, though it is more probable there has been an abnormally low average barometer due to meteorological conditions.

Nothing is better established in mining science than the fact that the periods of greatest danger from gas are coincident with the periods of lowest barometer. Every mine superintendent consults his barometer, and when it is falling increases his anxious care for his mine. The reason is plain. Normal atmospheric pressure drives the light hydro-carbon—fire-damp—into the roof, while a lowering pressure allows it to sink into the workings. It is ordinary mine practice to pump in more air when the barometer is low than when high. Beyond this physical fact it is well known to physicians, biologists and others who have given attention to the subject that a falling barometer has the effect of relaxing the physical, mental and moral fiber of the human being, rendering him more likely to be negligent or reckless of results.

Observations of meteorologic phenomena in connection with volcanic activity are too limited to formulate rules of interrelation. Abnormal depression of the barometer has been noted in connection with eruptions, not merely in the immediate vicinity of the active volcanoes, but over wide areas. It remains to be determined whether the low barometer is the cause of volcanic activity or the result, the preponderance of opinion favoring the former view. That is, the favorite theory looks beyond the earth's atmospheric envelope for conditions that cause unusual variations of the barometer, which may also exert influence upon the molten interior of the planet. The circulation of storm waves from shifting poles of high pressure, upon the great continents, is partly understood and explainable by the influences of land and water upon temperature. Yet there is something beyond that—electrical currents and magnetic waves the sources of which are not understood at all. It is through these that a connection might be traced between the eruptions of Mont Pelee and the presence of unusual quantities of inflammable gas in the mines.

It is not for The Gazette to say whether the coal mines of Pennsylvania have had more than their ordinary amount of firedamp this year. It has no data. It is not necessary to decide whether there was any abnormal flow of gas in the Cambria Rolling Mill mine, or whether an ordinary accumulation was exploded by wanton negligence of a miner. The only interest of this paper is to point out the folly of men who are ignorant of the first principles of meteorologic and mining science, turning their batteries of ignorance upon a rather far-fetched theory that, at least, recognizes certain demonstrated facts.

The Year's Foreign Trade.

Pessimists cannot find much cause for gloom in the United States foreign trade statement for the fiscal year just closed. Exports reached the magnificent total of $1,382,033,407. Imports aggregated $902,911,368. The balance in our favor was $479,122,099. A nation with a trade balance of this size is doing fairly well. These results were obtained in a year of a poor corn crop, a poor oats crop, and a lively industrial situation at home which made it necessary to go abroad for materials and supplies. Our imports of merchandise, which were heavy in 1900 and 1901, were heavier than ever in the last fiscal year. Exports of merchandise were $105,000,000 below the record of 1901, and $12,000,000 below 1900, but with these two exceptions, they have never been surpassed. The excess of exports is $185,000,000 less than last year's, $65,000,000 below the excess of 1900, $50,000,000 under 1899, and $186,000,000 under 1898, using round numbers; but with the exception of these years it is far beyond the excess exports of any previous year. The prospect for the new fiscal year just begun, with a bumper corn crop and a large wheat yield expected, is that the trade balance in our favor will break the record of the year 1901, which was the largest in our history.

Laws cannot prevent "falls" in coal mines. As long as miners are too careless, too ignorant, or unable to avoid having their own lives crushed out by them, there is no legal agency that will keep the roof up.

In the proposition at Johannesburg to levy a stiff import duty upon dynamite there is a recrudescence of the obnoxious monopoly of Kruger, which was assigned as a chief cause of the war. Moreover, it is protection in its worst possible form.

Senators Bailey and Carmack are to open the campaign in New England. We presume it is a political opening, as no reference to a ring or the size of gloves is made.

The big fighting machine that has recently taken to the high seas on her trial trip will doubtless prove an effective reminder to other nations to "Remember the Maine."

So far Tracy has Pat Crowe licked to a finish as a sprinter, but then Pat's staying powers may prove to be much greater.

Gen. Bragg's explanation amounts to an admission that he holds certain views, not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

With every allowance made for political exaggeration it would still seem that the trusts are in for a good, stiff swat when congress meets again.

Fortunately for their own peace of mind the secret service men at Oyster Bay are not expected to keep an eye on the junior Roosevelts also.

The publication of United States Steel conditions would seem to indicate that with the assistance of Pittsburgh this has really become a billion-dollar country.

The Commoner continues to treat Wolferts Roost as a part of the enemy's country.

Still, there is no denying that Chicago narrowly escaped a regular Mt. Pelee of a time of it.

John W. Gates may be expected to add corned beef to his menu card as a permanent delicacy.

Utah's mine disaster is not equal to that at Johnstown, but Johnstown is not proud of the fact.

It would be interesting to read the letter General Bragg wrote home after the news reached him.

The Bashi Basouks are on the war path in Turkey again.

No doubt Mrs. Bragg wonders which of her confidants gave the general away.

A Risky Combination.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

Geronimo, the Indian chief, offers to capture Bandit Tracey. He might be able to do it, but with Geronimo and Tracey both loose at the same time it would be risky for the rest of the population.

PARK LODGERS ARE DRIVEN OUT

Homeless People in New York Are Not to Be Allowed Their Catnaps.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 16.

What is to become of the hoboes in this city if they are to be forced out of the parks at night? For many years it has been regarded as the privilege of the homeless to seek rest and "cat naps" in the parks, either sitting on benches or snuggled down behind them. The police have winked at the custom. It was not exactly according to law, but Tammany policemen are tender-hearted chaps, as a class; when they saw a poor fellow in sunburned rags snoozing on a bench it was not in their hearts to make him "g'wan." But action has begun now. There was a sweep-out of Union Square last night. Complaints have reached the police that the square was so full of tramps, by day as well as by night, that it was not safe for a decent man or woman to walk through it. So the authorities went through the parks and corralled seven men and four women. There were many others hanging about the square, but all escaped except these 11 unfortunates. There were 300 sleepers when the raid was made. Many of the poor fellows were only homeless men, not vicious, but presumably ready to take advantage of any chance that might offer for the replenishment of their purses, legally or otherwise. They were all cleaned out, and it is possible that the police will sit down entirely on park lodgings, for a time. It has always been the custom to drive the men from one park to another, allowing them to sleep a little while in each place. If they should be kept out of the parks entirely there must be some other provision made for them, for the homeless army of New York is too large to be ignored, no matter how determined the police may be not to give it any privileges.

Still Talking About Bridge Crush.

Mayor Low is active in seeking a remedy for the congested conditions which prevail at the Brooklyn bridge at the rush hours. He has examined a number of plans, but seems to be impressed most favorably with that of a moving platform across the bridge. There is little doubt that this plan will be adopted eventually if Mayor Low has his way. He has Commissioner Lindenthal at his home in Rye tonight, having taken him there on his yacht, and there they will discuss the bridge problem in the cool of the evening and morning to their hearts' content. It is good to know that it is being discussed seriously somewhere and somehow.

Off for the Mimic War.

The United States battleship Massachusetts passed out Sandy Hook at 8 o'clock this morning to join the North Atlantic squadron on its summer practice cruise. The squadron is to meet at Woods Holl, off the New England coast. The battleships Alabama and Kearsarge left here for the rendezvous last night. The cruiser Olympia, after attending the dedication of the Stony Point battlefield state reservation at Stony Point, on the Hudson, this afternoon, also joined the fleet.

Many Children Born Blind.

The Rev. David H. Steele, a curate of St. Bartholomew's parish, whose time has been spent among the charitable and religious institutions of the lower east side, in an article on "Typical Tenement Tragedies," in the current number of the Independent, makes the startling statement that many children are born blind every year in subterranean apartments under New York office buildings, because their mothers have not seen the light for a long time. Health Commissioner Lederle says that he has never come across such conditions, but that if Dr. Steele will show them to him he will try to have them remedied. Which, surely, is as much as can be expected of any health commissioner.

Proud of a Little Weather.

After scooping up pailfuls of hailstones, and having six different kinds of weather within the limits of Greater New York yesterday, the conditions today have been delightful, if not so spectacular. It has been an ideal summer day, and this evening is like one stolen from Italy.

Happiness on Fire Escape.

Tenement children are obliged to be ingenious in arranging their amusements. Two little girls in one of the cross streets—West Twenty-eighth street, to be exact,—were enjoying a swing today in full view of the street. It was on a fire escape several stories up. They had rigged up a bit of clothesline not more than two yards long, fastened one end to the iron railing and the other to a nail in the wall. This "swing" gave them a movement of about a foot either way, and bumped them continuously. But the expression of content on the face of the young lady in the swing was ineffable, while the other, who was swinging her companion, was eagerly counting the number of bumps before it would be her turn. Most children would have had a swing in their yard, if they insisted on having one at all. But the yards attached to New York tenements are so inconsiderable that they are not available for anything in the way of play, and a swing would be wholly out of the question. The little girls in the fire escape looked as happy as if they had had a $100 patent swing on a wide lawn. They had probably never had a more spacious playground than the fire escape in their lives.

Charged Up to Prince Henry.

Police sergeants in this city look rather more haughty than usual in their new uniform caps. The caps have what has come to be known as the "Prince Henry visor," which is straight down, like that worn by the jolly brother of the kaiser in most of his travels through the United States this spring. This "Prince Henry visor" seems to have hit the fancy of other powers besides the police department, for conductors on the Erie railroad have been wearing them for some months. It may be that this style will in time completely drive out the old "cheese-knife" visor, which has been used for uniform caps in this country for the last 40 years or so, and was the regulation thing for soldiers in the civil war. Whether the "Prince Henry visor" is more becoming than the "cheese-knife" is a matter of taste, but certainly the former is fast coming into general use in New York.

Feast Day in Little Italy.

"Little Italy," of the upper East Side, is ablaze with colored lanterns and ribbons and flowers this evening. The feast day of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, the patron saint of Naples and all Italy, is always celebrated with much impressiveness in New York. Pilgrims from many cities, including Pittsburgh, arrived last night and this morning to take part in the festivities. Before the sun had risen this morning thousands of the residents of "Little Italy" on the upper East Side were making preparation to attend the early 5 o'clock high mass in the Church of Our Lady of Carmel on One Hundred and Fifteenth street. The worshipers carried lighted candles to the church, and held them throughout the service. After the last prayer had been said the people surged up to the front of the altar and deposited gifts of all descriptions. Money, wax candles, gold and silver watches, jewelry, flowers and other tokens of respect to the patron saint were piled in heaps upon the altar steps. It is estimated that not less than 50,000 persons were in "Little Italy" today and this evening.

Officials on Yachting Tour.

Mayor Low's yacht "Surprise," with the mayor, corporation counsel and members of the state land commission aboard, made a tour of the entire water front of the city today. The commission came from Albany yesterday afternoon and were entertained by the mayor and Mr. Rives at dinner last night at the Metropolitan club. The discussion of the property along the water front is with a view to framing plans for the ownership of it.

Duss Makes Return Engagement.

John Duss is so well satisfied with his reception in New York, with his band, that he will return next year, he says. He will end his present engagement at St. Nicholas garden the end of September and open again in May. Duss has been criticised considerably, but the fact remains that people go to hear his band by thousands, and Mr. Duss himself evidently enjoys the music as much as the rest of the audience.

Editors from Dixie's Land.

A bevy of sunbrowned editors from Alabama are seeing the elephant in New York. They have with them their sweethearts, wives and daughters. They went to Coney Island today. All the bands—Shannon's at Manhattan, the Naval at Brighton Beach, Landes' at the Brighton inn, and others of lesser note—sat up most of the night practicing "Dixie" and other suitable airs. Mr. Fain's pyrotechnic artists tonight touched off the battleship Alabama and a few Birmingham fancies in honor of the guests from the southland.

Edgar Saltus Still Has a Wife.

Edgar Saltus, the well-known short story writer and magazine contributor of erotic and erratic literary style, has failed in an effort to secure a divorce from his wife in a proceeding begun on the ground of desertion. Justice Garretson handed down an adverse decision in the Queens county court yesterday.

Believe Gates Never Loses.

Some of the shrewdest observers of Wall street and the produce exchange said that Gates had "won out" as soon as they heard that Gates had packed his grip for New York. This judgment was based upon a minute study of the habits of the man. "John Wideopen plays the limit. He does not call, but sees and raises on every round. He has been called for a showdown and has raked the pot," was the way one put it. It would seem as if he told the truth. The Chicago crowd, as it is known in New York, is on top again.

Colored Club Women in Session.

The Northwestern Federation of Women's clubs, which includes Afro-American women from the northern and eastern states, opened its annual convention in the Concord Baptist Church of Christ in Brooklyn today. Mrs. Sara A. Millar of Manhattan, president of the federation, called the convention to order. After some time spent in the renewal of acquaintances and the introduction of the new delegates the convention went into executive session for the purpose of listening to the report of the chairman of the executive board, Mrs. Hannah Smith, of Boston. Mrs. Smith and the executive board presented for the consideration of the convention several propositions with the object of spreading the work of the federation and bringing into its ranks all of the clubs now in existence among the Afro-American women. The convention will be in session until Saturday.

Cranks That Are Hard to Turn.

Several cranks made their way to the mayor's office, as usual. Mayor Low was away inspecting the water front. Secretary Reynolds had to deal with the visitors. Talking about this class of people, when he had a few minutes of leisure, after getting rid of a very persistent specimen, he said: "It is a peculiar fact that there is a certain clientele of cranks that come to the mayor's office who have done so administration after administration. Of course, there is a new batch that adds itself every year, and the number is consequently always increasing. The main point by which these cranks can be told is that they attempt to tell their woes, but cannot express their grievances clearly. This does not necessarily make them cranks, as I presume there are others who still have their 'franchise' who cannot express themselves clearly."

The Oldest Ship in the World.

From the New York Tribune.

What is stated to be the oldest ship in the world has recently been sold at Teneriffe to be broken up. This is the Italian ship Anita, registered at the port of Genoa. The Anita, which resembled Christopher Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, was built in Genoa in 1568, and effected her last voyage at the end of March, 1902, from Naples to Teneriffe, 10 or 12 weeks ago. The Anita was of tremendously stout build, and had weathered countless storms and tornadoes in all parts of the world; but, says the Shipping World, of London, it was also the slowest ship afloat, taking 205 days on one voyage from Baltimore to Rio Janeiro.

One Thing the Same.

Mrs. Wickler—Did you ever see how all the necessaries of life have gone up?

Wickler—No, they haven't all gone up.

"Well, I should like to have you mention one thing that hasn't gone up."

"Certainly. My salary."

A Noticeable Difference.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Merely as a reminder so that the winter months may be pleasant: There is a noticeable pallor upon the male cheeks in town that fairly offsets the tan on the feminine faces at the seashore and 'mid the hills.

A Summer Idyll.

"What are the wild waves saying?"
As they dash on the surf-bound coast,
Where their wild, incoherent praying
Doth sadden the heart of mine host?
They say that the list of expenses
Has rendered your pocketbook sick;
That ere the gay season commences
You'll big home to the city of brick!

They say that dash Charles will be clerking
At ten dollars per very soon,
Instead of his goshingly working
The liking of love 'neath the moon;
And Edythe, the strenuous dancer,
Will also his home from the sea,
And when handed the broom she will answer:
"Why, mom, I'm dear dead of ennui!"

KING'S RED RUBBER IS BLOOD-STAINED

Congo Scandal Revived—Gossip About Notables in the Courts of Europe.

By MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

"Red rubber" is the name given in European markets to the rubber obtained from King Leopold's domain in the Congo Free State, not on account of the color of the material, but in consequence of the appalling amount of native blood spilt in order to procure it. France has now joined both Great Britain and Germany in denouncing the treatment meted out to the native population of the Congo Free State.

The methods adopted by King Leopold and by the concerns in which he is interested to exploit the Congo Free State are as follows:

Agents are assigned to various districts and are provided with a force of native troops often recruited from cannibal tribes and officered by white scum. The first care of the agent is to roughly survey the country and estimate its population. Then he informs each chief how much rubber will be expected from him. If the proper amount is duly forthcoming well and good. If not the agent takes no half-measures to see that it will be on hand in the future. His pay, and that of the myrmidons white and colored depends to a great extent on the amount of rubber he furnishes, and, as has been frequently shown, he inflicts penalties consisting of the slicing off of a hand, a foot, an ear, or a nose, the loss of an eye, the burning of a village, and even the slaughter of children and of adults when the proper amount of rubber is not provided by the people of his district.

The unfortunate natives, of course, receive nothing for the rubber. But it fetches all the way from $1,000 to $1,800 a ton at Antwerp, and as there is no competition in the Congo Free State, King Leopold and his associates are reaping enormous dividends. But the things cannot last even if the great powers do not intervene. The entire Free State is becoming depopulated owing to the natives fleeing into French, Egyptian and German and British territory. Moreover, the rubber supply is becoming exhausted, and in a few years from now King Leopold, if allowed to retain possession of the Free State, will be forced to seek some new source of revenue.

Boulanger Incident Recalled.

The divorcee, duchess of Tarente, whose first husband was Camescasse, prefect and chief of police at Paris, has just called attention to the fact that the Humberts were the most intimate friends of Gen. Boulanger, that he was among the habitues of their house alike in town and country, and that they were constantly giving big dinners in his honor at which he was always allowed to choose his fair neighbor. It is queer that no one should have remembered this until now, and one is tempted to ask oneself what role this extraordinarily clever Mme. Humbert, the Cagliostro in petticoats of the twentieth century, played in the Boulanger intrigue which so nearly brought about the downfall of the republic.

A feature in connection with the Humbert scandal is that no Jew is implicated in the affair, a fact which, in view of the abuse which has been heard against the Hebrew elements as exercising a demoralizing influence in the social and political life of France, should be borne in mind. The Humberts indeed were particularly prominent in the anti-Dreyfus agitation, and it is ridiculous to attempt to identify them with either the Waldeck-Rousseau or the present Combes government. All their friends and associates were with the Nationalist party, which is virtually the same as the former anti-Dreyfus gang.

Rapid Promotions Cause Surprise.

M. Beau, the French envoy at Peking, who has just, to the amazement of everybody at Paris, been promoted to the very lucrative governor-generalship of France's colonial possessions in the far east known as "Indo-China," is less than 45 years of age and owes his wonderfully rapid promotion to the fact that he has been for the greater part of the time since he joined the government service, just 19 years ago, private secretary to the successive ministers of foreign affairs. Indeed, his only diplomatic experience abroad has been obtained during a brief spell as third secretary of embassy at Rome, and quite recently the successor at Peking to M. Pichon, who was minister plenipotentiary there during the siege of the legations. M. Beau is a rather good-looking man, particularly well groomed, of most agreeable manners and possessed of a multitude of friends. He is a particular protege of the present minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, and of ex-Premier Henri Brisson.

McCalmont for Australia.

The most extraordinary suggestion put forward in all seriousness by the London press for the governor generalship of the Australian commonwealth is that of Harry McCalmont, the owner of the famous race horse, Isinglass, and who won for himself the title of colonel during the recent war in South Africa. While the Australians might be disposed to welcome him on account of his prominence on the turf, and of his enormous wealth, they would never consent to the idea of his wife figuring at government house as the first lady of the Australian continent. True, she is a very charming, fascinating and pretty woman. But she has the social disadvantage of being a divorcee, her former husband having been Atmar Fanning. Then, too, there is a cloud in connection with her birth. She is a daughter of Gen. Henry de Bathe. One of her brothers is Hugo de Bathe, the husband of Mrs. Langtry.

Worried About a Book.

Gen. the Marquis de Gallifet, who has played so conspicuous a role in the military and social affairs of France from the days of the Crimean war, in 1854, until the present day, has arranged for the publication of his diaries, written from day to day for the past 48 years—well documented with numerous letters from distinguished contemporaries in support of statements contained in the volumes. The work will be brought out by the great French publishing house of Plon at Paris, which has already, it is said, paid a very large sum to the general for the MSS.

This announcement, which has created a certain amount of consternation, not only in France, but also in many foreign capitals, owing to the extensive knowledge of things possessed by the general, and his directness of speech, has been made by De Gallifet himself in the course of a letter published in the Paris Journal des Debats, addressed to ex-Premier de Freycinet, and in which he calls his attention in a caustic manner to the fact that in giving so strong a support to the bill for the reduction of the period of military service from three to two years, he, De Freycinet, was violating a solemn pledge to the late Duc d'Aumale.

This pledge was given at the moment when De Freycinet was a candidate for the French academy. The late Duc d'Aumale's consent to his admission was indispensable, as ducal influence in the academy was predominant. The duc only gave his sanction to the election of De Freycinet in return for the latter's giving in writing a solemn promise on his honor never to agree to any reduction of military service in France; secondly, to always protect religion and its ministers, and, third, to work in order to secure as early as possible the return to France of all the exiled royal princes.

The negotiations were carried on through the Marquis de Gallifet.

The latter has been in turn the aid-de-camp of Napoleon III., the friend of Gambetta and also a crony of the late Duc d'Aumale, besides minister of war of the republic.

PERSONALS.

"We stand ready in Vicksburg and all parts of the Mississippi valley to do our best to aid the efforts of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce to better the navigation of the Monongahela and Ohio rivers," said R. C. Winbleton, a coal dealer of Vicksburg, last evening. "When the rivers at Pittsburgh are high, the prices of coal at Vicksburg are low, and when the rivers are low the prices of coal are high," he continued. "This uncertainty of the fuel supply all along the Mississippi valley hurts its industries. Until a plentiful and steady supply of coal from the upper rivers is assured, there cannot be the industrial development that would come with an improvement in this respect. What congress has already done is thoroughly appreciated; but we wish still more to be done every year, until the navigation of the Ohio has been made as regular as that of the Mississippi. Congress appropriates millions each year to the improvement of rivers and creeks, none of which are so important to so many people as the Ohio river. The people of at least 20 states will be benefited by this work. Pittsburgh coal is wanted in all of these, and it can be had cheapest over the rivers."

A. B. Starr, general superintendent of freight transportation of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, left for Chicago last evening to attend a meeting in that city today of the transportation officials of the Chicago lines. The purpose of this meeting is to work out some details of the new "per diem" system of charging for cars in use on lines other than the lines owning the cars. "The new system is working well," Mr. Starr said last evening at the Union station. "It is accomplishing the return of cars far more rapidly than under the old system but there are still some rough places to be made smooth in its workings."

A party of operating officials of the American Sheet Steel Company's Eastern Ohio plants was registered at the Lincoln last evening and will leave this morning for Vandergrift to inspect the ideal new plant of the company at that town. Garver, Dresden; W. E. Ward and A. P. Schonfeldt, Canton.

Squeezed a Little Too Hard.

From the Philadelphia Times.

A small headstone in a cemetery in the western part of the state is pointed out to visitors as one of the sights of the neighborhood. It was placed over the grave by a widower who, while not lacking in love for the departed one, was penurious to a degree. He ordered a small stone because it was cheap, and told the mason to engrave on it this inscription:

"Sarah Hackett. Aged ninety years. Lord, she was Thine."

The stonecutter said there was too much inscription for so small a surface, but was told to go ahead and "squeeze it on somehow." Here is the inscription as squeezed:

"Sara Hackett. Aged 90. Lord, she was Thin."

EYE-OPENERS.

Once a foolish fly said to the Phrenologist Fly: "Come, let us make haste and alight on yonder bald head."

"Not so," said the Phrenologist Fly. "Can you not see that the bald head possesses an enormous bump of combativeness?"

THREE PLAYERS STILL HOLDING OUR FLAG ALOFT

Ormiston, Byers and Fredericks Making Fine Records at Chicago.

VICTORIOUS OVER STARS

Second Day's Play Establishes the Reputations of the Western Pennsylvania Men—Each Has a Hard Proposition in Today's Matches.

By J. N. PATTERSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Glenview Golf Club, Golf, Ill., July 16.—Western Pennsylvania again made good in the second day of the national golf championships, and tonight the talent views with amazement her presence in three of the eight remaining matches after sensational victories over such stars of the east and west as Lockwood of Boston and John Holabird of Chicago. Since the retirement of the former by Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, and of Holabird by E. M. Byers of the Allegheny Country club, the betting element is taking a serious view of the chances of the Pittsburgh district, which finds itself with a heavier representation in today's play than that of any city outside of Chicago, the home of the tournament.

The three Pittsburgh players who survived out of the seven starters in the morning round were all victorious in the afternoon. Dr. Fredericks furnishing the sensation of the day in the defeat of Lockwood, known as a seasoned aspirant for championship honors in every tournament of recent years. The renown of the comparatively unknown golfer from the oil country was enhanced by the fact that he entirely outclassed the crack from Boston with a final score of 5 up and 4 to play. Ormiston, the fifth favorite in the pool selling on the strength of his splitting of the honors with Travis in the qualifying, survived two close matches and is still one of the ruling factors in the competition.

Have Hard Work Today.

Tomorrow Pittsburgh will figure more prominently than ever, and with the eyes of the golfing world upon them Byers, Fredericks and Ormiston will meet possibly the hardest men left in the competition, and if victorious throughout will find themselves in the semi-finals on Friday. Much harder opponents for the plucky Western Pennsylvania golfers could hardly be picked than Champion Travis, who meets Byers, Walter Egan, who was runner up to Travis for the championship last season, and Abram Poole, who returned the third lowest qualifying score and was the next favorite to Travis in the $2,500 pool.

Byers has, of course, the hardest task of the Pittsburgh trio in the championship, and his chances are considered slim, especially as he has not been playing his best game here. Travis himself has picked Dr. Fredericks in the pool selling tonight to win over the much-talked-of Poole, one of the west's main dependencies, while Ormiston, who is on the opposite end of the pacings from Travis, is being figured on all states for the final match against the other side of the field presenting Harban, Pyne, Chandler, Egan and Leslie, outside of the Fredericks-Poole and Byers-Travis matches. If Fredericks wins he will this afternoon meet the winner of the Leslie-Pyne match, while Byers, if he should down the champion, would have Dr. L. L. Harban or Chandler Egan this afternoon.

Pittsburgh Is Looking Up.

With Ormiston a constant favorite for the final and Fredericks looked to for almost anything, since his defeat of Lockwood, Pittsburgh has assumed a prominence in the championship field which even her most ambitious golfers little dreamed of when the nine golfers embarked for Chicago. Of all Pittsburgh's victories today, that of Fredericks was the greatest and most unlooked for, though Byers won one of the prettiest battles of the afternoon in defeating John Holabird by 1 up on the last green. Ormiston was off his game, especially in putting, in both rounds defeating John D. Cady in the first by 2 up and G. F. Brokaw of Princeton in the closest kind of a battle in the afternoon by 2 up and 1 to play.

Byers in the morning disposed of Howard Giffin by 3 and 2 to play, while Fredericks won from W. H. Bennett, by 4 up and 3 to play by winning eight straight holes, after being badly off in his game at the start. C. B. Fownes lost to F. R. Hamlin in the morning, 3 down and 2; O. D. Thompson to F. C. Reinhart, 7 and 5; H. C. Fownes to H. C. Smith, 6 and 4, and W. A. Carnegie to L. H. Conklin, 2 and 1. All of the Pittsburgh matches in the afternoon were followed by big galleries, which applauded the plucky victories of Ormiston and Byers in close contests and the fast golf of Fredericks, which rendered him so easily superior.

Great Work by Fredericks.

Fredericks played beautiful golf in his match with Lockwood, badly outputting the Boston crack, being truer in driving and much surer in approaching. Fredericks steadily pulled ahead from the start and was 3 up at the turn and furnished one of the most spectacular plays of the tournament in halving the 10th. Fredericks played short, thinking that Lockwood had gone into the river, but his ball just hung over the near bank in a bunch of marsh grass. Fredericks, finding that Lockwood had cleared the water waded in and played an almost impossible mashie shot, chopping down at the ball. The spectators who had advised play back to the bank were enthusiastic when Fredericks cleared the water safe near the edge of the green. The hole was halved in 6 and Fredericks halving the next in 3 and the 13 in 7, was 5 up on the 14th, having taken 2 holes in 4 to Lockwood's 5.

Ormiston was badly off in his putting all day and had a close battle in his morning victory over Cady. He was weak in his green game in the afternoon at the start, but was 2 up on Brokaw playing for the ninth, which Brokaw took in 3, and evened the match by taking the 10th in 4. They halved every hole from this to the 16th, which Ormiston won by a beautiful approach shot of 20 feet, placing him dead at the hole. The Highland man was 1 up with 3 to go and won the match by taking the next, after Brokaw had missed a 20 in-putt, just after raising a storm of applause by a 40-foot approach shot.

Ormiston in Bad Way.

Ormiston was in a tight place during the last 9 holes, but won on a steady nerve. He was one stroke to the bad playing the fifteenth, as a result of pulling into the grass on his drive, but recovered and halved the hole on Brokaw's topping his second shot, after which Ormiston made a beautiful putt, which rimmed the cup some 10 yards away.

Byers gained enthusiastic applause from a large gallery in defeating John Holabird on the very last hole of his home course by an up. Byers played a careless game on the green and got himself into difficulty on the second round after being 3 up at the third and 4 up at the eleventh. His long game and approaching were good, and in view of his meeting Travis tomorrow, the champion's answer to a query is interesting:

"Yes, I have watched Byers and he plays a strong game, offering very pretty form."

Byers was in the lead during all of the first 9 holes, except at the seventh, and was 4 up with 7 to go, but Holabird pulled up by pretty work on the green. Byers was but 1 up laying for the seventeenth, which Holabird won by a beautiful 12-foot putt, evening the match.

For the last hole, Byers had the better drive over the road, but was a little farther away on the approach shots. Byers' approach was eight feet from the hole, but he won the match by holing his putt, while Holabird was several feet short on a six-foot putt.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Large Crowds Attended the Horse Show—A. J. A. Devereaux of Philadelphia Injured.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 16.—(Special.)—The second day of the horse show exceeded the first both in interest and attendance, the classes being more attractive than those shown on the opening day. The display of gowns was more brilliant, and the private turnouts going to and from the park were more numerous.

There was considerable excitement among the spectators near the close of the judging, as the result of a painful accident which befel A. J. A. Devereaux, a Philadelphia society man, who was thrown from his horse and was picked up unconscious and taken from the field. Mr. Devereaux was riding Jim Crow, a magnificent hurdle jumper owned by him. The horse jumped hurdles and when Mr. Devereaux sent him at a six-foot hurdle the horse missed and the rider's knee struck the top of the hurdle, throwing him forward over the horse's head. A number of grooms ran to his assistance and he was carried into a dressing room, where he was revived by physicians called from among the spectators.

There were 10 events today, and the New York exhibitors captured 6 first, 4 second and 4 third prizes. The Philadelphia exhibitors got one first and two third prizes. In the 20 events of the two days the New York exhibitors captured 11 first, 10 second and 9 third prizes, while the Philadelphians won 3 first, 2 second and 3 third prizes.

Tomorrow, which is expected to be the big day of the show, the events will be as follows: Judging, four hunters, green, hunters, middle weight; judging eight harness horses, over 15 hands 3 inches; judging six pacers, not under 15 hands high, to be shown in harness; judging four pairs harness horses, to be shown before ladies' appropriate vehicle; judging five saddle horses, 15 hands to 15 hands, 2 inches; judging 15 harness horses, over 15 hands and not exceeding 15 hands 2 inches; judging four hunters; judging six pairs harness horses; judging 10 combination harness and saddle horses; judging three 4-in-hands, park teams.

Aim of Jewish Schools.

At today's session of the Jewish Chautauqua assembly, the Rev. Dr. Emil G. Hirsch of Chicago, delivered his second lecture on "The Aim, Scope and Method of the Jewish Religious Schools." In the course of his lecture, Dr. Hirsch said:

"To be a Jew means to be under the ban of shame,' says one; 'to be a Jew means to be excluded,' says the second; 'to be a Jew,' says the third, 'is a handicap in the race for honor and position.' 'To be a Jew is to be marked for derision,' says the fourth. What is to us more adapted to hush these cowardly voices than to bring our children up to the understanding that to be a Jew may mean to be a martyr, but being a martyr confers the distinction of being a redeemer of the world? And every Jew in the medieval age was a redeemer. While suffering he sang his sweetest, he thought his deepest, he prayed his most fervent prayers, and believed, notwithstanding the tyranny of the fate which seemed to accentuate the contrary dictrine, that God reigns; that the world is good; that it is a privilege to be a man, and a prerogative among men to be one of the missionary people. Tell that story to the children till their hearts bleed and their nerves tingle, and you are safe against the blandishments among the gods and goddesses that throng the streets crying to our children, 'Forget the old.' Tell that story and they will know that in these days to be a Jew is to wear a crown of distinction."

Miss Beulah Kennard, chairman of the joint committee of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, its treasurer, yesterday visited three of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools conducted under the auspices of the committee. The visits were to the Birmingham school, one of the largest playgrounds and vacation schools in Pittsburgh; the Monongahela school, which is the smallest this season, and the Duquesne school.

It was flower day at the Monongahela school. Friday is the usual flower day this year, but as Mrs. Ammon said yesterday, "We have flower day when we can get the flowers." She carried hundreds of sweet peas with her to the Monongahela school and little bouquets were given to each of the 85 children in attendance. The Monongahela school is located within two blocks of the Lake Erie depot on the South Side, and right in the heart of a mill district. Surrounded by the mills and coming from homes contracted and having little of the beautiful about them, because of the destructive smoke and soot, the children find it hard work to present themselves with clean faces and hands. That they enjoy the morning in the playground is evinced by their constant attendance, the little ones going through the games of the kindergarten with delight and the older children entering with enthusiasm into the tasks of the vacation school. Miss Grimes of Knoxville is the chairman of the committee of women looking after the work in the Monongahela school.

The opposite in almost every respect is presented by the Birmingham school, farther up the Monongahela river. The children there, after an experience of over five years of summer playgrounds, are ranking of the Birmingham playground and vacation school a model among the 11 which have been opened this year in Pittsburgh. The interest the little ones take in the playground and the kindergarten is no more marked than that shown by the older children who are enrolled in the vacation school. The Birmingham school has an almost unvarying attendance of 350. Mrs. Samuel Miller is the chairman of the committee in charge there.

At the Duquesne school Miss Kennard and Mrs. Ammon made a short visit, watching the children at play and work, the boys at basketry and Sloyd work and the girls at their sewing.

There is still lacking $1,000 to make up the amount required for maintaining the playgrounds and vacation schools this season. Nearly 4,000 children were registered on the opening day, a week ago Monday. The number has since increased to 5,000, and before the schools close those in charge of the work expect the number to rise to 7,000. The estimated amount required for this season, including the salaries of 85 teachers, the purchase of supplies and those incidental expenses which occur from week to week was $7,000. No excursions will be given this year, as heretofore, but instead, if the funds in the treasury permit, a little treat will be given the children at the end of the playground season, which lasts six weeks. Any belated contributions may be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, at the Hotel Kenmawr, Shady avenue, East End. Mrs. Ammon has defarred her usual summer trip until after the playgrounds close in August.

Johnston-Musgrave.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Johnston, in Center avenue, occurred the wedding last evening of Miss Elmina McEwen Johnston and John Hall Musgrave of Minneapolis. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. Robert J. Coster, rector of Grace Protestant Episcopal church. The bride, in a wedding gown of white duchess satin trimmed with both duchess and rose point lace, her veil of tulle fastened with an aigrette and wearing a necklace of diamonds and pearls, was attended by a little flower girl, Fay Emmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Emmons. Two young girls, Miss Alice Fairman and Miss Anna McCune, were the ribbon-bearers. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Dr. Samuel Musgrave, as best man.

Pink and white were the reigning colors throughout the house and the little flower girl, who wore an exquisitely dainty frock of white with a pink sash, carried a bouquet of pink roses. The maids were also gowned in pink and white. During the ceremony and reception which followed the bridal party stood before a bank of tall palms and ferns filling a recess in the parlors. Supper followed the reception and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave left for New York, intending later in the week to sail for Europe, where they will spend the next six months in travel. Their future home will be in Minneapolis.

Pittsburgh Orchestra at Saratoga.

The Pittsburgh orchestra since it left Pittsburgh, in May, has been meeting with much success and winning popular favor in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Buffalo. Victor Herbert is now in Buffalo, where he will be joined on Sunday by William B. Clayton, and together they will go to Saratoga, where the Pittsburgh orchestra will play until September 6. Twenty-five of the orchestra players, under the direction of Paul Henneberg, have been in Saratoga for the last two weeks and on Monday will be joined by Mr. Herbert and 25 additional players, making the full traveling orchestra of 50 players. The latter part of July and the month of August promises to be very gay this season at Saratoga.

After the close of the Saratoga season Mr. Herbert will go to his summer home in the Adirondacks for a few weeks, returning to Pittsburgh in October in time to resume rehearsals for the opening of the orchestra season in this city early in November.

Quiet Wedding Scheduled.

A quiet wedding scheduled for Wednesday of next week which will unite two prominent young people will be that of Miss Mary Smith, daughter of John R. Smith of Scott township, near Carnegie, and Prof. David Leonard Bower of Homesdale, Wayne county. Miss Smith has been connected with the Scott township, Carnegie and North Fayette township schools, and for the past two terms has been teaching the High school class in the Homewood school, Pittsburgh. Her fiance has been superintendent of the public schools of Wayne county for the past six years and is also president of the Wayne County Christian Endeavor society.

Church Wedding at Carnegie.

A pretty church wedding was that in Carnegie of Miss Kate Moore, daughter of Patrick Moore, and William Herbold, son of the late Otto Herbold of Glendale. The wedding occurred in St. Luke's Roman Catholic church at 9 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father P. J. Quitter. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie Moore, and Charles Flick acted as best man. After the evening a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. After returning from their wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Herbold will reside in Glendale.

CHATAUQUA.

Dr. Hulley Calls Browning the Greatest English Poet.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 16.—(Special.)—Worshipers of Browning were given a rare treat this afternoon when Dr. Lincoln Hulley gave the third lecture in his course on the English poets, taking for today Robert Browning. Dr. Hulley began his address by saying that he considered this hour worth more to his audience than all the lectures he would give on Kipling and the other writers put together.

"If you want to study Browning," he said, "you must make a business of it, and keep at it, morning, noon and night, just as you would with the study of music or any of the learned professions, for Brownins knew them all. If you are just beginning to read him, take the shorter, the simpler and so-called popular poems and avail yourselves of the best masters to be had.

"Browning has been called obscure, and he is so, for many reasons. His style is very concise, and where he might use 10 words and explain, he will use three, and expect you to know the rest. And it is said that the Browning societies make Browning say many things which he never said or thought. He uses the monologue style, and it is often difficult to discover whether it is Browning's opinions that we are reading or those of his characters. He is obscure, too, because we are obscure. His greatness lies more in his versatility than in his meter, and his knowledge is so wide that we do not understand all the references. Many of his poems cannot be understood until you know by heart the Italian history and have visited the places about which he wrote.

"While deeply religious, Browning was not narrow or confined by any creed whatever. He was a theist. He had done more to save men from infidelity and lift their souls to a higher plane than any other writer. I think him to be the greatest of all English writers."

Report That Siegel & Cooper Are to Locate Here.

The report has been current that the new building to be erected on the Cathedral property by H. C. Frick will be tenanted by a branch store of Siegel & Cooper, the big New York firm.

Mr. Frick is out of the city. Inquiry at New York headquarters of Siegel & Cooper developed the fact that no one with authority to talk was in that city. The members of the firm in Chicago say that they know of no plan for establishing a branch here, and Burnham & Son, the architects who have charge of the plans of Mr. Frick, also state that they know nothing of it. It is said, however, that Mr. Siegel, who recently retired from the firm, has been active recently in such operations, and that he may be interested in establishing a great store in Pittsburgh.

League Games Today.

Boston at Exposition park.
New York at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Happy Jack Chesbro holds the proud record of pitching the greatest number of innings without a run being made. When the Boston team succeeded in scoring their solitary run in the seventh inning of yesterday's game they broke Chesbro's spell and stopped his record at 41 straight innings without a run. Perhaps that isn't pitching! The champions managed to push nine tallies across the plate, and that's how the contest ended.

Yesterday's game might just as well have been another shut-out, had Happy Jack kept his wits about him, but he did not, and that accounts for the break in his record, and Boston's lone run. It was in the seventh inning, when Courtney, by virtue of a two-base hit to right field, was nestled on second with two out and big Greminger at bat with two strikes and no called balls. There was the point where Happy Jack could have wasted one or two and kept the batter guessing, but he didn't do any such thing. On the contrary, he put the next ball right over the pan, and the Boston batter laced it to center for a single, and Courtney brought home the run that saved Buck's boys from a second disgrace.

They Were Laying for Pittinger.

Charley Pittinger, the former idol of Greensburg, was the twirler selected by Manager Buckenberger to try and put a check on the champions' stride to the flag. Not long ago in Boston this same Pittinger, who has a Pat Reilly cast of features, threw the harpoon into Clarke's crew, and not only shut the team out, but held the sluggers to one lonely hit, which was made by Deacon Phillippe. The champions had not forgotten that throwdown, and they saved up a few things which they presented to Mr. Pittinger as the game progressed.

Pittinger started off like a 2-year-old, full of speed and wise looks, which lasted just one inning, and then the balloon went up. The champs started doing things to Pitt in the second, and they kept up their doings until the end of the seventh, when the former Greensburg idol threw up his hands and took to the woods. In the seven innings Clarke's boys had piled up seven of the juiciest wallops one would care to look at, and they were the result of a dozen well-placed hits. No wonder Pitt grew tired.

The College Boy Got a Reception.

In the eighth Roy Hale, a former college twirler, was sent to the slab, and he also got a taste of the Pirates' revenge. After Clarke had gone out by way of Long and Tenney, Beaumont tore off one of those pretty little bunts of his, but he was forced at second by Leach. Wagner doubled to left and Bransfield bunted and filled the bases. Here the college boy lost his bearings and gave two bases on balls, which forced in two runs. Zimmer ended his agony by a fly-out to Courtney.

Chesbro was in great form again, and the Boston batters were like infants in his hand. Happy was not out after a strike-out record, and the visitors could hit the ball all right, but few of these soaks went safe. This hitting gave Clarke's men an opportunity to display their fielding ability, and the chance was a treat to the 2,470 spectators, who witnessed some of the most spectacular plays seen on the field this season. Just how fast the fielding was is shown by the fact that the champions turned out three fast double plays.

Ritchey Made Wonderful Plays.

The star of the afternoon was Little All Right Ritchey, whose fielding feats were simply wonderful. His star play was made in the sixth inning when he bounded fully five feet into the air and in his gloved hand pulled down Dick Cooley's smash that had a two-base label tied to it. Ritchey also wound up the game with a sensational play when he broke down Courtney's bid for a hit and threw the fleet-footed boy out at first. It was a great afternoon for Little All Right, and the cheers of the crowd could be heard for miles. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

In the second inning Bransfield saved Conroy an error by going into the air and pulling down a throw that was away over his head.

In the seventh Zimmer was at bat with two on bases and Pittinger had trouble locating the plate. As Umpire Emslie sang out "balls three" O'Connor, who was on the coaching line, cried: "Come on, old pal, he's afarid of you. The next one was over and the chief laced it down to Long and was out at first but Wagner scored on the play.

In the seventh inning Wagner sent a scorcher down at Herman Long, and the ball was too speedy to be handled perfectly. Honus thought the play was going to be close at first, and he made a long, head-first slide for the bag and got there without any trouble. It took him some time to dig the dirt out of his uniform, then he turned around and gave Long the laugh.

In the first inning Beaumont sent up a high foul, which Moran chased but did not get, as he lost too much time circling around like a homing pigeon to get his bearings. This called out a protest from Capt. Long, who yelled, "Get under the ball, don't go chasing yourself all over the lot." Moran had made a good, game effort to get the ball, and the call-down seemed a bit unjust.

During the Pirates' preliminary practice Catcher Harry Smith went out to right field and tried his hand in that position. He gathered in several flies nicely and when he made a long running catch Manager Clarke, who had been watching him from left field, yelled, "Good boy, you can field a few yourself." The crowd applauded Smith's clever display of fielding.

It looked as though Wagner was not watching his P's and Q's in the third inning when, after gathering in Tenney's liner, he lobbed the ball into Bransfield at first. Cooley, who was on first, had gone to second, so that there was a double play. It looked as though Honus forget all about the runner, but at that he beat the play by time, as Cooley did not attempt to get back to first.

The Boston team will finish the series here today and Manager Buckenberger is going to make an effort to land at least one game. He will place Young on the rubber today, Carney, the team's regular right fielder, who formerly pitched for the Holy Cross college team, and made quite a record as a left hand twirler, being the best fielding pitcher in the country at pitching since that time. He has been practicing every day and shows good speed and control.

Umpire Emslie got after Clarke and O'Connor when they were out coaching in the third inning. Both Pirates were taken to positions outside the coaching lines, and the umpire stopped play and made them get back of the line. "Do, you go ahead and attend to your business as umpiring and let me alone," retorted O'Connor, but Robert would not have it that way, and Rowdy had to step back while the crowd gave him the laugh.

"Let her come, Honus," sang out Tommy Leach as Wagner gathered in Long's fly in left in seventh and Courtney, who was on second, showed a disposition toward making for third. Honus did let her come and with such ease that Tommy took off his glove and nursed his hand, declaring he did not make the try for third, as Captain Long yelled at him, "Stick there; stick there." Herman knows to well the strength of Wagner's throwing arm.

When Pitchey came to bat in the Pirates' half of the sixth, it was just after he had made that remarkable catch of Cooley's bat, and the crowd was still cheering him. Herman Long cried out, "Now, you little whelp make a base hit," and Ritch didn't do a thing but slam the ball down into left field for a single, and while Courtney was booting the ball about Clarke kept on going and landed on second, where Long met him and shook his head.

The people who watched Claude Ritchey at work yesterday witnessed what was perhaps the most remarkable display of second base work on this or any other diamond. Ritchey was here, there and everywhere, scoping in the most difficult grounders and lining the runner out. His jumping catch of Cooley's liner in the sixth was, as the dramdic critic would say, the piece de resistance and the cheering of the spectators lasted up after Little All Right had doffed his cap and taken his seat on the beach.

If ever a batter hit in hard luck it man is Dick Cooley, during the present series. Richard has banged the ball on the nut with remarkable regularity and started it sphere on the road to safe land, only to save some player jump in and make a sensational stop or play. On Monday it was Wagner who robbed him of at least two long hits. Tuesday it was Clarke and Leach, and yesterday it was Ritchey. Truly, Dick has a large-sized kick coming.

The one matter of regret expressed by all spectators was that Chesbro did n shut Boston out. He clearly had that turn on the run and would have had a shut-out had he used better judgment in pitching t Greminger in the seventh. As it is Chesbro record of 41 innings without a run being scyed against his team, is a pitching performance never before equaled in the history of baseball. And just think that Pittsburgh came near letting Chesbro out two years ago.

BALTIMORE CLUB SWALLOWED UP BY THE NATIONAL

New York Gets Four Players and Cincinnati Will Take Three Others.

HARD BLOW TO AMERICAN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., July 16.—The controlling interest in the stock of the Baltimore Baseball club was sold today and is now in the hands of parties representing the National league. The deal was conducted by John J. Mahon, president of the Baltimore club, and Manager McGraw and another agent of the National league, representing Andrew Freedman.

Of the 400 shares of the club 201 were bought by the National league interest and were transferred to Joseph C. France, a Baltimore lawyer of the firm of Willis, Homer France. This stock was that held by John J. Mahon, John J. McGraw, Wilbert Robinson and Joseph J. Kelley.

With this transfer of stock there was also a deal for players. New York gets McGinnity, Cronin, Bresnahan and McGann, and Cincinnati will get Kelley, Seymour and Williams, and possibly Howell. These players have all be released and the New York men left tonight to join the Giants.

Tonight the future of the game in Baltimore is very uncertain. There are not players enought left to play the games scheduled for tomorrow, and unless Ban Johnson, who is in the city, comes to the rescue and gets a team here, the schedule cannot be carried out. He says he will immediately organize a new team to represent Baltimore.

This move by the National league in acquiring the Baltimore stock is a step in the direction of forming a 12-club league for next year. Baltimore and Washington are to be included in that league.

Ban Johnson could not be found tonight, but it was reported that he had a consultation with some of the minority stockholders this afternoon. A gentleman who was formerly a stockholder in the club says the program outlined by Johnson is to forfeit the game to St. Louis tomorrow, then the franchise will be declared forfeited to the American league and a new club will be organized to play the schedule out. It is said that Sydney Frank, formerly president of the club, will take hold.

NEW YORK, July 16.—By becoming a purchaser of the stock of John Mahon, principal owner of the Baltimore club, Andrew Freedman, president of the New York club, has obtained control of that organization. Practical disintergration of the present American league club in that city is assured. Four of the best players in the nine—McGinnity, Seymour, Bresnahan and Cronin—left Baltimore for New York tonight, announcing that they intended to play in the future with the Giants under McGraw. Other players are at Mr. Freedman's disposal.

The four men who have left Baltimore for this city will add much strength to the Giants. McGinnity is well known as the pitcher who won the championship for Brooklyn, and Seymour is the former New York pitcher, now developed into a successful outfielder. Bresnahan is a catcher of more than ordinary promise, and Cronin a pitcher who did fairly well for Detroit, and was so well liked by McGraw that he was signed when Detroit let him go because of a surplus of players.

WENT ALL TO PIECES.

Senators Fell Down and Detriot Took the Game.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—After having practically won today's game, Washington went to pieces in the ninth inning and permitted Detroit to tie the score. In the 10th inning two errors, three singles and a home run gave the visitors the game. Attendance 3,147. Score:

WORKING FOR GOOD ROADS

L. A. W. Starts Its Convention by the Seashore and Many Riders Are Present.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 16.—(Special.)—Wheelmen and wheelwomen were far more numerous than usual on the avenues today, the occasion being the opening of the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen. A feature of the meet is the harmonious coming together of the L. A. W. and the National Cycling Association, the championship races of the latter organization being held in Atlantic City this week.

Among the first to appear was Mrs. Charlotte L. Bolton of New York, affectionately termed "The grand old woman of the L. A. W.," she having been a member since 1889, and an earnest worker in the woman's department at every meet since she became a member. She was accompanied to Atlantic City by another New York wheelwoman, Mrs. L. R. Carrell.

The first event of the day was the arrival of about 25 cyclers from Philadelphia. They made the run down in six hours, arriving here at 11:30 o'clock. They were captained by A. H. Allen, who, with Jack George, made the pace for the long trip.

Mayor Stoy welcomed the delegates in his usual happy manner on behalf of the city and fitting reply was made by J. B. Uple, chairman of the convention, who also made an address on "Highway Improvements." The other speakers of the afternoon were W. S. Crandall, editor of the Municipal Journal and Engineer, whose subject was "Through Roads," Harry I. Budd, state road commissioner of New Jersey, on "Repairing of Stone Roads With Gravel;" the Hon. W. L. Dickinson of Springfield, Mass., "Improved Street Pavements," and L. C. Bodiman, who spoke on the proposed New York and Chicago highway. The afternoon session closed with another speech from Mr. Budd, who expressed his views on the proposed road from New York to Atlantic City via Lakewood.

Another session of the Good Roads convention was held tonight when Senator Horatio Earle of Detroit, spoke on the question, "Is the Value of Through Roads Commensurate With Cost?" He was followed by the Hon. M. O. Eldridge of the road inquiry bureau at Washington, his subject being, "American and European Highways." The closing address tonight was made by H. B. Fullerton of Hollis, L. I., on "Value of Good Roads Out of Every City."

LUTZ KNOCKED OUT YOURALL.

Prize Fight at Beaver Falls Ended in Twenty Seconds.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., July 18.—(Special.)—Billy Yourall and Lawrence Lutz were scheduled to go 15 rounds before the Nonpariel Athletic club tonight at 138 pounds. Yourall could not get below 142 nor Lutz above 135. The fighters then compromised the matter. Yourall agreed to stop Lutz in 10 rounds. The fight lasted but 20 seconds.

The round started off at a terrific pace. The men had just separated and started together again, when Lutz landed a short right hook to Yourall's left jaw. The negro fell to the floor like a log and after being counted out, was carried to his corner, where he was soon revived.

KING ENJOYED CRUISE.

General Condition of Edward VII. Is Reported Excellent by His Physicians.

COWES, ISLE OF WIGHT, July 16.—A bulletin issued today on King Edward's condition, says:

"His majesty bore the journey from London to Cowes extremely well and suffered no inconvenience in the process of moving. The king had a good night. His general condition is excellent. He is much gratified at the change of air and scene.

"His majesty had his couch wheeled out upon the open deck two hours yesterday."

Signed, Travers, Laking and A. B. Bankhart.

ORDER HELD IN ABEYANCE.

People Have Complied With Vaccination Order Till Compulsion Is Unnecessary.

While yesterday was the last of the 30 days granted by Superintendent A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health for the people of Pittsburgh to comply with the order to vaccinate it is not likely that Superintendent Pitcairn will inaugurate the compulsory vaccination which he threatened. He said yesterday that many people have complied with the law, that many others are still being vaccinated and that he did not believe it would be necessary to compel vaccination at this time, although he stands ready to put the law into effect whenever he finds that the people will not vaccinate without it. He says about 150,000 people have been vaccinated.

Director Leslie of the department of public safety said: "The extent to which people have willingly submitted to vaccination has suggested to us that we may be relieved of the great task that was presented, but, of course, we will have to wait and see if the excellent results achieved thus far continue."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

With one out in the tenth, Marshall singled and took second on Nagel's out. Laffy was then sent in to bat for Williams. After one strike had been called on him he gave the fans heart disease by hitting the ball between left and middle field, driving in the winning run. August Belmont Takes a Stand Against the Jockey.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Through authoritative sources it is learned that Chairman August Belmont of the Jockey club has taken a decided stand against the reinstatement of Jockey Lester Reiff by the Western Jockey club. Reiff was ruled off the track by the English jockey club. On Saturday John A. Drake of Chicago, according to report, declared his intention of presenting Savable, Reiff up, at the Futurity post. Mr. Belmont is reported to have said that under no circumstances will Reiff be permitted to sport silk on a Metropolitan track. As the situation stands the Jockey club finds it necessary to decide between the English Jockey club and the governing body in the west. As in the Sloan case, Mr. Belmont and his associates will, it is said, support the constituted turf authority of England.

THE VENUS STAKES WON BY GRAVINA

DEFEATED A FINE FIELD AND SHOWED GREAT SPEED.

The Race Was a Pretty One and the Finish Exciting—An Old-Time Killing Was Made on Pearl Finder in the Last Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 16.—Gravina with 99 pounds up and owned by Green B. Morris won the Venus stakes for two-year-old fillies at Brighton Beach today. She covered the distance in 1:00 1-5 and also defeated a first-class field. Jackson, who is fast rounding into his California form and who rode a perfect race on Old England yesterday, today duplicated the ride on Gravina.

The start in this race was perfect and perhaps the best seen in the east this year. The nine horses were neck and head as the barrier went up. Jackson sent the Golden Garter filly to the front with Astarita second and Lady Josephine third. At the stretch turn Lady Josephine appeared beaten, dropping back to fourth place. Odom, however, got her going again, and closing very strongly was only beaten one-half a length. The favorite, Astarita, was third.

An Old-Time Killing.

An old-time killing was made on The Pepper stable's Pearl Finder. Her price opened at 8 to 1 and was steadily forced down until 13 to 5 was the best. She led all the way and won in a gallop by five lengths. Summaries:

Time, 1:00 1-5. Mary Street, Miss Dorothy, Mamie Caldwell, Lucid Love, Etura and Lass O'Linden also ran.

RACES LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

Defeat of Lucien Appleby and Bragg Caused Much Comment.

CHICAGO, July 16.—There was unsatisfactory racing at Washington park today because of the poor performances of Lucien Appleby and Bragg behind horses that had been heavily backed. The former was beaten by Hunter Raine and Bragg finished behind Waswift. Both Hunter Raine and Waswift were backed as if the race was all over, and although each of them won as it could have been by dozen lengths further in both the fact that the betting looked bad on the main contenders followed by their indifferent showing led to much unfavorable comment. Hunter Raine and Lucien Appleby opened even favorites at 8 to 5, but Hunter Raine went to the post at 8 to 5, while Lucien Appleby receded to 3 to 1. Waswift was backed from 3 to 1 to 4 to 5.

After Vincennes won the second race he was bid in by John A. Drake at $1,600. Summaries:

STEEL STOCKS RISE SLIGHTLY ON LEGAL REPLY

Common Is Quoted Higher in Wall Street Than for Weeks Past.

FIGURES CONSERVATIVE

Financiers Find No Complaint to Make With Mr. Schwab's Statement—Virginia Mine Strike a Disturbing Factor at the Furnaces

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 16.—The affidavit of President Schwab in the answer of the United States Steel Corporation to the suit of J. A. Hodge and others to prevent the carrying out of the bond conversion plan created considerable favorable comment in steel as well as financial circles today. It is regarded as the most complete statement bearing on just what the combine is composed of that has ever been issued.

President Schwab's statement that the United States Steel Corporation will have earned at the close of the second fiscal year $140,000,000 is regarded by steel manufacturers as a very conservative estimate. They base their opinion on the activity of their own mills. A financier in close touch with the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation commented as follows on President Schwab's statement:

"The people now realize more fully than ever the power of the United States Steel Corporation. Of course, the capital of the company is enormous, but at the same time it must be remembered that the steel corporation is in complete control of the steel business of the United States, and dominates the iron ore situation, the basis of the industry. The extent of the latter branch of the company's business is evident from the statement of Mr. Schwab that the actual value of the iron and Bessemer ore properties of the corporation is $700,000,000.

Mills Not the Only Assets.

"Heretofore the majority of the people have looked upon the mills as the principal asset of the United States Steel Corporation. The people in New York do not seem able to comprehend the magnitude of the iron and steel industry. The United States Steel Corporation is the largest patron of the railroads, and in the event of a depression in the steel business you can depend upon it that the railroads would suffer as well. The steel combine pays to the railroads every year for handling its freight something between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000."

Notwithstanding the strong defense of the United States Steel Corporation, the stock of the company continued dormant today, the common as well as the preferred closing with but fractional gains. Transactions in both issues of United States Steel today amounted to about 56,000 shares. In the neighborhood of 83,000 shares of the common stock changed hands. The closing quotation was 40⅞, the highest level the stock has reached in weeks past. Considerable inside buying was reported.

Advices received here today by the owners of blast furnaces in the Pocahontas, New river and Kanawha districts indicate that there is slight possibility of a settlement of the strike in the near future. Rogers, Brown & Co. have received the following from their Cincinnati correspondent:

"The expected improvement in labor conditions in the Virginias has not been made. The increase in output of coke in those districts is but slight, and a number of furnaces depending on them for supplies are still out of blast. It was supposed that the strikers would be at work by this time, but the indications now are that the return of the men will be gradual, and some time will elapse before the furnaces will get back to their normal output.

Selling for 1903 Delivery.

"Pig iron manufacturers state that sales for delivery in 1903 are being made steadily, although the buying cannot be said to be general. In many cases, after prices on large lots have been secured from all available quarters, the decision has been averse to buying under existing conditions. The more conservative holders, according to a western manufacturer, are taking hold for at least part of their requirements for the first three or six months of next year, but the jobbing foundries are not finding anything attractive in what appears to them to be a long range speculation. Little information in connection with the United States Steel Corporation's proposed order for 100,000 tons of pig iron for deliverey in the second quarter of 1903 can be obtained. An official of that company stated that negotiations had been dropped for a third delivery."

The report from Philadelphia to the effect that the Bethlehem Steel Company has not been sold to the United States Shipbuilding Company, and that Lewis Nixon had merely an option on Charles M. Schwab's holdings, which for some reason he chose not to exercise, is contradicted by those in a position to know the status of the negotiations between the combine and the steel company. One of these said:

"There is absolutely no truth in the report that we have not secured the Bethlehem Steel Company. The wish is probably father to the thought and the story probably originated with persons who wish we were out."

The last announcement was authorized by Mr. Nixon and was to the effect that the Bethlehem Steel Company would unquestionably become a member of the combine.

Looks Like Something Doing.

The feature of the stock market today was the simultaneous advance in Chicago & Alton and Chicago Terminal stocks. The strength in both securities gave rise to the report that the Chicago & Alton contemplated absorbing the Chicago Terminal property. It was stated that the Harriman interest bought control of the Chicago Terminal last year, and at that time made a contract for the use of its terminals for the Illinois Central. For some reason it was not convenient to fulfill the contract, and instead, it was said, the Terminal property would be turned over to the Chicago & Alton, another Harriman property. This story was emphatically denied by the prominent banker identified with the control of both properties, who pointed out that the Chicago & Alton already possessed the most valuable terminals at Chicago and could not secure any additional advantage by buying the Terminal property.

The advance in the stocks of the two roads were generally ascribed entirely to manipulation by John W. Gates and his associates. It is known that an extensive pool was formed to boost the stock of Chicago & Alton shortly before the panic in May, 1901. The break in the market at that time threw such a damper on public buying that the people have never been able to unload their holdings, and are undersstood to be holding at the present time practically the entire amount of stock they purchased over a year ago.

The Pennsylvania Tool Works Company, with a capital of $125,000, was incorporated in New Jersey today. The incorporators are Milton S. Zortman, F. B. Brown, Robert Wray and Joseph Langfitt, all of whom give their address as 419 Market street, Camden, N. J.

Quiet Succeeds Turmoil in Chicago

EXCITEMENT IN GRAIN MARKET GROWS QUIETER

Trading Yesterday Was Commonplace in Comparison With Day Before.

CORN CLOSE WAS FIRM

This Gave Rise to the Suspicion That the Corner in July Corn Might Not Be a Thing of the Past After All—Provisions Higher.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 16.—Grain trading was commonplace today when compared to yesterday's tumultuous fluctuations. Many conditions were bearish and early in the day it was expected that July corn would take a further drop. This, however, did not occur, and the very absence of weakness causes much comment. In the end the firmness of corn gave rise to the opinion that the July corner might not be a thing of the past after all. At the close July corn was ⅛c up, September corn unchanged, September wheat ¼@⅜c lower and September oats ⅛@⅜c higher. Provisions closed a shade higher to 7½c lower.

Actual trading in corn today was of a unusual type. Cables were lower and contract corn to the extent of over 400,000 bushels was put on the market. The weather continued favorable for the bears, but all these conditions did not break the market appreciably. There was not much doing in July after the opening, although the Gates crowd both bought and sold that option and bought September.

Uncertainty in July Pit.

Uncertainty ruled in this pit. It was a patent fact that wisdom had been shown in the refusal by the Gates-New York-Steel clique not to take the mountain of corn that is being rushed in here to take advantage of 85-cent prices. It was openly stated that big elevator interests had settled with the bull party at 80c to 82c for the July corn that was sold short under 62. The question that remained unanswered, however, was whether more than one-third of the big short line estimated at as high as 25,000,000 bushels had been covered by the unfortunate bears. The Gates party officially announced that they had given up their support of July, but actual purchases by them at 68c today refuted this statement. Gossip had it that the bulls might still be able to give a twist to the market the last few days of the month. Lower prices are expected to curtail the movement of contract corn toward this market, but this curtailment in turn is feared by the bears, who are still holding their short lines out expecting to retrieve their losses.

The Opening Prices.

July opened irregular, 2c lower to ⅛c up, at 63¾@68c on the influence of the talked-of broken corner. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher, at 50⅛@50⅜c, dipped to 50@⅝c and rallied to 60¼c on support by the bull crowd, which was supposed to have sold too heavily of this month as a hedge against their cash receipts and deliveries. Business was not large, and prices dipped later on liquidation. July closed rather firm, ⅛c up at 65⅝c. September closed steady, unchanged at 50¼@50⅜c. Receipts were 453 cars, 145 of contract. Private elevators turned out 171 cars, and 24,000 bushels.

Hot weather northwest and local showers, together with the unexpected show of steadiness in corn, put gimp into wheat at the opening. September opened ⅛@⅜c up at 71⅞@72⅛c, and held firmly for some time around 72¼c, after having dipped to 71⅝c. The cause of much of the early firmness was the buying of nearly 2,000,000 bushels by the leading elevator concern.

Price Broke at Close.

This offset the local bearish sentiment and kept the price from dragging until just before the close. Then the skies brightened, the fear of the hot weather in the milky spring wheat passed away and the weakness of the foreign markets began to have an effect. Receipts were liberal and showed signs of increasing from now on. Trade was only moderately heavy, and selling by commission houses was free. As the session ended brokers for the early purchasing elevator concern let go large quantities, and the price broke. September closed weak, ⅛@⅜c lower, at 71⅜@71¾c, having sold as low as 71⅛@71¼c. Local receipts were 122 cars, only 2 of contract grade, but nearly all new stuff. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 215 cars, making a total for the three points of 340 cars, against 250 last week, and 360 a year ago. Primary receipts were 868,000 bushels, compared to 1,116,000 bushels. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 517,000 bushels. Bradstreets world's visible supply decreased 2,493,000 bushels.

Oats Were Firm.

Oats firmed up well at the start, partly because of fear of wet weather and reports of lodging in Iowa, Indiana and Illinois. Shorts, who saw they had overdone the selling yesterday, covered freely and higher prices resulted at once. Receipts were small, and the cash demand held up remarkably well. Receiving houses were good buyers, as were some commission houses. Trade was only on a fair scale and the selling was scattered for the local account. September sold from 31¾@31¼c and closed firm ¼@⅜c up at 31¾c. Receipts were only 66 cars.

Provisions business was dull. Prices were hurt by liquidation, especially in lard, but the hog situation was firm, and was considered too strong for short selling. September pork closed a shade higher at $15 05; September lard 7½c lower at $11 15, and September ribs unchanged at $10 85.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 145 cars; corn, 450 cars; oats, 70 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

MOODY MEETINGS AT KINSMAN.

Two Prominent Divines Will Have Charge of Notable Religious Event.

The Rev. Dr. A. C. Dixon and the Rev. Dr. James M. Gray of Boston, who are to conduct the coming Moody meetings at the Kinsman (O.) fair grounds, September 11 and 12, are two very busy men.

Beside being pastor of one of the largest city churches, Dr. Dixon is in constant demand at the various summer Bible schools and conferences throughout the land. As in former years he is down as one of the speakers at Northfield, also Denver, Winona and Grove City.

Dr. Gray is all the time occupied giving addresses and conducting popular Bible classes in Boston, New York and other large cities. Almost from the founding of the Moody Bible institute at Chicago he has been an important helper during the summer, and is now on duty there during July and August. Through arrangements of the Moody Bible institute extension he is expected to devote the month of September to work in Ohio commencing with the Kinsman Moody meetings.

Big Gain of Confidence in Wall Street

STOCK MARKET THE SCENE OF BRISK SALES

An Active and Variegated Speculation Apparent Yesterday.

MORGAN'S HAND IS SEEN

Traders Strong in the Belief That the Big Banker and the Standard Oil Interests Had to Do With the Large Buying Orders.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 16.—There was an active and variegated speculation in stocks today, the market reflecting the play of larger forces than at any time during the recent advancing tendency. No specific new developments were evident to account for the movement, which was apparently due to the substantial basis of confidence in the generally prosperous condition of the country and the firm foundation of credits. The uneasiness over the resources of the money markets to meet the expanded requirements upon them was also less in evidence.

The reported dissolution of the speculative corner in the July corn option at Chicago had not a little to do with engendering confidence, as there has been a fear for several days past that the struggle to maintain the artificial conditions in that market would result in pressure upon New York for money and in forced liquidation of stocks that might prove disastrous to the market. The published abstracts of affidavits of officials of the United States Steel Corporation as to the intrinsic value of the properties and the earning power of the company which were filed in connection with the reply to the suit against the corporation were expected to have a stimulating effect upon prices.

Could Not Stop the Advance.

The fact that the advance in the United States Steel stocks came to a standstill under the flood of long stock which came out when they were bid up, and the further fact that Chicago renewed its demand upon New York for currency, causing a shipment of $100,000 through the sub-treasury, were without effect in checking the bullish tendency of the market. Traders laid much more stress on their belief that they detected the operations of Morgan and the Standard Oil interests in the large buying orders executed by various brokers.

It was very obvious that the bringing forward of new stocks into the upward movement was taken advantage of on a very large scale to take profits in stocks which have risen hitherto. But this profit-taking was achieved successfully without making serious inroads upon prices of the stocks affected, which were, generally speaking, the high-priced established dividend payers, especially amongst the grangers. Stocks of the second grade, lower in price and with no established dividend-paying record, took the leadership of the market.

C. & A. Helps Other Roads.

The heavy absorption of Chicago & Alton had a strengthening effect on other low-priced railroad stocks in the west and southwest, while the aggressive rise in Chesapeake & Ohio affected the low-priced coal carriers, both in the anthracite and bituminous group. The belief that tomorrow's miners' convention at Indianapolis will decide against a general strike and thus lead up to an early settlement of the anthracite strike was the predominating influence in this group. Much was made also of a current rumor that the control of Reading has passed to the Pennsylvania, thus further centralizing that corporation's control of the coal traffic. There were other points of strength, from individual causes. Amalgamated Copper was bought in the belief that the present dividend rate is to be maintained and Tennessee Coal reflected a favorable report of earnings. The settlement of the freight handlers' strike in Chicago was a favorable influence, especially upon the Chicago Terminal Transfer stocks.

Close Was Irregular.

The market closed somewhat irregular, with profit-taking continuing, but there was a notable renewal of the buying power in the strong stocks.

There was a large business in bonds and offerings were absorbed without hurting prices. Total sales, par value, $2,611,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on the last call.

Local Volume of Business Was Larger, but Prices Were Irregular

STEEL AND COAL SHARES LARGELY LED THE BUYING

U. S. Steel Common Bought Because of Mr. Schwab's Big Showing.

RIVER COAL WAS LOWER

Window Glass Very Dull, but Steady. Crucible Steels Quiet—Bank Issues Higher—Fire Proofing Shares Rallied a Fraction.

The volume of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was larger than for some time, being almost 4,000 shares, with $8,000 in the bond department, added. The tone of the market, however, was spotted, in some issues being quite strong and in others the reverse. The close was dull and irregular. The heaviest trading of the day was in the United States Steel and River Coal shares, and these largely led the sales, aggregating over 3,200 shares. United States Steel common was the most active, selling nearly 2,000 shares. The opening was at 40 and the low at 39¾, the close being firm at 40¼, with 40 bid for 500 shares. The closing price was an advance of ⅜ over Tuesday. The preferred was dull but firm at 91½ for 60 shares, the price being an advance of ½. Local financiers are disappointed that the showing of President Schwab did not cause a big upward move in the stock. His statement was regarded as remarkable and generally conservative, except in the case of his estimates of the value of the ore properties and natural gas fields. The former he valued at $700,000,000 and the latter at $20,000,000. No one cared to correct his figures, but the natural gas people are reported as saying that if the United States Steel's fields are worth $20,000,000 then the local companies are much under-estimated or capitalized. The only quotations on local gas stocks were 48¾ for Philadelphia common and 70 for Manufacturers Light & Heat, these being unchanged. The absence of any material advance in the United States Steel issues is due probably to two causes—a close local money market and lack of buying orders, the public not always responding to opinions with buying orders, and buying is what makes the prices advance, not somebody's estimate of orders.

River Coal preferred was heavy, but received support, an inside house taking the bulk of the offerings. Over 1,200 shares changed hands at 89¾@89¾, a loss of ⅜. The common did not sell and was unchanged in the quotations. The decline in the preferred may have been due to the fact that a new coal company promises to enter the field. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined fractionally on light sales, while the common was weak and ½ lower at 24¾. Window Glass was almost stagnant, but steady at the figures. Crucible Steels were quiet and unchanged. Fire Proofing issues rallied fractionally, but were dull. Banks shares were somewhat more active and generally higher. Bonds were steady to firm.

The figures of the Financial Chronicle show that the municipal bond sales in June far exceeded even the exceptional figures for May. In fact, the total has been surpassed but twice during the past 10 years. The aggregate for June was $28,469,872., more than double the average of that month of the previous 10 years. In May, 1902, the disposals footed up $26,856,404, and in June, 1901, $13,408,005.

The settlement of the corn corner in Chicago is sure to be a favorable effect upon speculative sentiment here, and it looks as if a good-sized bull market was now fairly under way. Atchison has started in to duplicate the performance of Missouri Pacific. As it traverses very much the same territory and has the same favorable crop prospects, it will be helped in its advance by a fair-sized short interest. Edge sold out 2,000 Atchison yesterday.

A meeting of the arbitration committees of the Pittsburgh stock exchange will be held today at 1:30 p. m. This little announcement made by John D. Bailey, chairman of the committee, is remarkable in the history of the exchange, for never before has a meeting been held—not even to organize. It is called to arbitrate a case, but will have to organize first. The members are: John D. Bailey, John T. Patterson, Arthur Davis, Nathaniel Evans and S. J. Waithman.

The directors of the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore railroad and those of the Baltimore & Potomac railroad approved the proposed merger and consolidation of the two corporations into a new company, to be known as the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington Railroad Company. The stock of both companies is nearly all held by the Pennsylvania railroad. The new company will be capitalized at an amount equal to the combined capital of the two companies, and the old securities will be exchanged for stock of the new company on the basis of the market value of the stocks of the present companies.

The meeting today of the arbitration committee of the Pittsburgh stock exchange was called at the request of three houses, which were recent buyers of Commonwealth Trust, when it advanced from 150 to 250. In making deliveries it appears that stock of the Commercial National bank, which, according to the merger of the bank with the trust company, was exchanged share for share on a basis of $200 for $400 paid in, the belief prevailed that the bank stock could be exchanged for Commonwealth Trust stock. The buyers then insisted on getting the recent dividend of 8s per share, Richards & Company's original block stock, and, on being refused, ruling was asked for by the exchange.

There has been listed on the Boston stock exchange 450,000 shares of the common stock of the United Copper company. The financial statement of May 22 shows the following assets: Stocks and bonds of the following companies: $1,000,000 first mortgage bonds Montana Ore Purchasing Company; $2,500,000 first mortgage bonds Nipper Consolidated Copper Company, representing the total bond issue of those companies; 76,291 shares of stock of the Montana Ore Purchasing Company; 600 shares of stock of the Belmont Mining Company; 1,900,000 shares of stock of the Corra Rock Island Mining Company; 2,850,000 shares of stock of the Minnie Healy Mining Company, representing in each case 95 per cent of the capital stock of those companies; $40,810,000; cash on hand, $190,000; total, $50,000,000. Liabilities—Preferred stock, $5,000,000; common stock, $45,000,000; total, $50,000,000.

Wall street is always full of incongruities and inconsistencies and one of the most notable now is that while Steel common, which pays no dividend, and by its own officers' statements is earning none, is in the litigation over Steel to insure for Mr. Frick's benefit is called upon to make an affidavit, and it proves to be a most bullish declaration, for he predicts that the net earnings for the second fiscal year will greatly exceed those of the first year, and will probably equal $140,000,000 net. The company earned during the period of 15 months since its incorporation net profits of above 36 per cent upon the entire capital stock, after providing for all interest charges. The company is now earning over 10 per cent upon its common stock. That the common stock advanced only a small fraction on this interview shows how little response it is to opinions when unaccompanied by buying orders. The stocks that go up do so not because some one in an academic way speaks well of them, but because of heavy buying. St. Paul, for example, went up six points within a few days, but it was on good buying and not on mere talk and opinion.—Watson & Gibson.

There seems to be real new buying of the steel stocks.

The general market looks as if it had had its reaction and is broadening out again.

It is reported that the buying in Great Western is by the same people who are working Alton.

Exchange and heavy disbursements by the sub-treasury are likely to give a good bank statement Saturday.

The speculation in Southern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio and stocks of that character is bringing in new buyers.

I think Wisconsin Central issues will sell higher and believe the common is a good buy for four or five points.—Worthan.

I hear Union Pacific will not increase the dividend this time but that it will next. Southern Pacific will be put on a dividend basis this autumn and following that the Union Pacific will be put on a permanent 8 per cent basis. It is a purchase on declines.—C. B. Post, Jr.

I hear very good things on B. R. T. The Harriman crowd have been big buyers of it recently and are buying more of it today.—Sloan.

The Gould people talked 115 for Missouri Pacific and have made good. It is said that the party who advised the purchase of Missouri Pacific at par is advising the buying of Texas Pacific.

Insiders of B. R. T. say that their earnings for the first time in months are showing satisfactory increases, and that owing to more economical operation the net will show up from 40 to 50 per cent. The Flower crowd is talking very bullish on it.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Canned Tomatoes Are Easy. Watermelons in Better Demand and Higher.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

With the break of the corn corner in Chicago prices in the west went down with a thump, but local figures, never having flown to the great height reached in the west, only declined slightly for shelled corn, while ear remained unchanged. Oats are easier on account of the weakness in corn, and white nominal quotations were the same as yesterday, actual selling is being done at figures a shade lower. No. 2 white middlings are firmer, and a trifle higher, with very few coming forward. Hay is unchanged.

Receipts: Baltimore: Pennsylvania lines, 2 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 1 car oats and corn, 3 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car corn, 1 car feed; total receipts, 12 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 25.

Hay—No. 1 timothy, $15 50@16 00; No. 2 do, $13 50@14 50; No. 1 clover, $10 50@11 00; No. 1 clover, $10 00@10 25; prairie, $8 00@10 00; packing, $8 50@9 00; loose from wagon, $16 00@17 00.

Groceries.

There is no change in the local flour situation. The Sneak in the Chicago corn market influenced wheat in a downward direction, but as mills are working on old spring wheat, the flour market is not affected by temporary fluctuations. The range of quotations represents actual conditions. Corn products are likely to be easier, although they never reached the fictitious values which prevailed in the grain markets, and will not have far to fall. Primary coffee markets have shown some increase of activity, with quotations improved, but there are no local changes.

Flour—Jobbing prices: Fancy spring patents, $4 20@4 30; fancy winter patents, $3 90@4 00; straight, winter, $3 80@3 90; bakers, spring, $3 00@3 60; rye, $3 45@3 60; graham, $4 00@4 20; commeal, bbl, $3 50@3 60; 10-lb cotton bags, 40@20c.

Canned Goods.

Range of quotations for canned tomatoes continues to widen, spots offering as low as $1 40 for standards, with prices lower than those figures heard of, though not confirmed. Some new packs of early tomatoes have been put on the market, and these have assisted in forcing down prices. While there will probably be fewer quotations for canned tomatoes during the coming season than have ruled recently, it is not thought likely by dealers that there will be any offerings at the very low figures which have ruled in years of plenty as crops are late and packs will not be heavy. Low up to standard of quality, 90@95c.

Standard pie peaches, 80@85c; gallon pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California 1. C. peaches, $1 80@2 25. Maryland peaches, 1@ 10@1 65; California Y. THE HERRMANN BLOCK BOUGHT FOR $71,000

ACTIVITY IN M'KEESPORT

John Dunlop Co. Will Build Big Tinware Plant at Carnegie—House-Building Takes a Fresh Impetus. Small Real Estate Deals.

The Herrmann office building at No. 624 Fourth avenue has changed owners for a sum approximating $70,000. Although articles of agreement are known to be signed in the transaction, no particulars could be learned yesterday beyond the fact that the purchaser is an East End business man. The deal is credited to the Gordon-Smith Company but these brokers declined to give out any information. Title to the property will be secured from John W. Garland, who purchased it last year. The building is a five-story brick office structure, standing on a lot 24x80 feet on the south side of Fourth avenue, between Grant and Ross streets. Some time ago it was reported sold for the same price, but the deal fell through, for some reason. The present purchaser, it is understood, will remodel the building and make extensive improvements.

Sales in McKeesport.

The Rummelfinger estate has disposed of a property on the south side of Fifth avenue, near Huey street, McKeesport, for about $26,000. The lot measures 40x120 feet and extends back to the hillside. An old brick house is the only building on the property. The adjoining lot, 40x80 feet, was also sold a few days ago by John Childs, the plumber, for $13,000. It formerly belonged to William A. Dunshee and was purchased from Mr. Childs a few months ago from a Pittsburgh bank. Since June 1 over $150,000 worth of business property in McKeesport has changed hands. An offer of $500 a front foot was refused for the property at the corner of Fifth avenue and Huey street and several other property owners in Fifth avenue have received tempting offers this month.

R. H. L. Naylor has conveyed to Mildred M. Smith an improved property, 23x72 feet, in Carson street, Twenty-eighth ward, for $13,500.

Big Tinware Factory.

The John Dunlap Company has commissioned Architect J. Lewis Beatty to prepare plans for a tinware factory at Carnegie. The site is just outside the borough line, and will be improved with two brick-and-steel buildings. Both will be three-story structures, one measuring 70x250 feet and the other 40x250 feet. Bids are now being taken on the work. The same architect has plans for a three-story brick apartment building for William Jamison to be built in Perrysville avenue, near East street, Allegheny, at a cost of $12,000.

Ten modern brick houses to cost $3,500 each are to be built by Mrs. Mary Cheatham on her property a short distance east of Hawkins station. Plans are now being prepared for these dwellings and also for residences to be built on the adjoining property.

Architect F. J. Osterling has awarded the contract to William Miller & Sons for the erection of the James Piatt residence in Fifth avenue. The house will be of brick-and-stone construction, finished throughout in hardwood, and will cost about $25,000.

Houses a Necessity.

The outlook for a large amount of house building in September is becoming brighter every day. Yesterday a leading contractor made the prediction that this fall would be one of the busiest seasons in building that Pittsburgh has ever seen. Many owners who held back in the spring and early summer, for various reasons, realize that the scarcity of houses is increasing instead of diminishing, and that good dwellings are sure of finding good tenants. Within the past few days two good jobs have been put on the boards and work will be started on the houses as soon as the site can be cleared. Plans for two large apartment houses, each of which will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000, are in the hands of East End architects, and the prospects of their going ahead early in the fall are excellent.

Penn avenue: Seibold & Dunseith sold for Arnold Lusher to George Hubbard, Nos. 4817-4819 Penn avenue, two frame houses on a lot, 24x100 feet, for $8,000.

Rapid Farm Sales.

Michigan street: Charles Ott and Margaret Schaffner, trustee and executrix of B. T. Schaffner, sold to David A. Lyon an improved lot, 25x102 feet, on the north side of Michigan street, Thirty-eighth ward, for $1,700.

Main street: John H. Elder sold to S. G. Lennox to James J. Leahy a lot, 28.5x110 feet, in Main street, Seventeenth ward, for $8,500.

Never did such big crowds of women congregate in this big and busy store as yesterday—the first day of this most extraordinary Remnant Sale. And, if history will repeat itself, today's crowds will be bigger still. You, women, know that Remnants here mean Remnants, and that we do not, as certain other stores hereabouts are in the habit of doing, cut up a lot of undesirable goods into remnants, to whet your appetite. It's YOU, the many of you who come here every day, that make the remnants—we don't have to make them in any other way. Every day's business here adds its quota to the remnant piles, and twice each year we clean them out. Ours, then, is the only natural Remnant Sale in the two cities—not a fanciful creation to excite the public, but the unavoidable result of the ordinary course of this business. That's why Remnant Day here is so interesting, and why thousands of women, who pay no attention to other Remnant Sales, never fail to attend this one.
